Aerial Warfare On Biggest Scale Yet Seen In Africa

Italian Fliers Greatly Extend Activities as Emperor Haile Selassie's Forces Strike on All Fronts; Town of Daggah Bur in South Destroyed; Egyptian Red Cross Unit Wiped Out

By Albert W. Wilson, Associated Press Correspondent
Addis Ababa, Jan. 6.—The Italian armies have plunged into the most intensive air bombing activity of their three-months-long campaign, in an attempt to halt advances by native forces on all fronts, Ethiopian authorities said to-day.

HOT ITALIAN REPLY TO U.S.

Mussolini Seen Behind Giornale d'Italia's Editorial on Roosevelt's Speech

Associated Press
Rome, Jan. 6.—Fascists to-day saw the hot resentment of Premier Benito Mussolini behind a blistering editorial criticism of President Roosevelt's neutrality speech, written by the noted editor, Virginio Gayda, in The Giornale d'Italia.

Il Duce's name nowhere was mentioned, but many said Gayda never would have dared to have published such statements without governmental approval.

SAYS RACES EXTERMINATED

Answering Mr. Roosevelt's expressed preference for democracy as compared with autocracy, Gayda declared: 1. United States wealth was "attained with wars of expansion and conquest during which they exterminated all colored and native races." 2. Roosevelt democracy "nevertheless has not known how to stamp out crimes of gangsters and finally Lindbergh, America's national hero, has been obliged to seek safety for his child in voluntary exile across the ocean." 3. "Roosevelt's attempt at American intervention in European and League affairs establishes a precedent for intervention by Europe or other continents in American affairs."

President Roosevelt also was warned by the editor that a "ban on excessive limitation on oil would not halt Italian operations, but could only provoke new world complications."

Italy, Gayda asserted, can provide for all her needs but "other reactions belong to the realm of the unknown."

Fascist aerial squadrons, dealing out deadly bombs and machine gun fire, were reported officially to have destroyed Daggah Bur and an Egyptian Red Cross unit on the southern front, where three columns under Ras Datta, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie, have been moving against the army of Gen. Rodolfo Graziani.

ON NORTHERN FRONT

On the northern front, where a force of 400,000 men under War Minister Ras Mulugheta and four other commanders has been waging a campaign, official communiques said renewed Italian air raids were directed against important cities and troop concentration centres.

The latest government advice told of at least two aerial attacks on the southern front and three on the northern front, following the Dolo bombardment a week ago to-day in which a Swedish Red Cross unit was destroyed. Officials were unable to draw from the confusion the exact number of casualties.

OFFENSIVE LAUNCHED

ITALIAN BOMBS MENACE CANADIANS

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 6.—The Sudan Interior Mission to-day received a cable from Ethiopia saying Italian airplanes had bombed a Red Cross unit led by Dr. Ralph Hooper of Toronto and containing three other Canadians. There were no casualties. The unit also included a large number of Ethiopian assistants.

The cable came to Rev. E. V. Bingham, D.D., of the mission, from Dr. T. A. Lambie, medical missionary in charge of the mission in Ethiopia and acting head of all Red Cross activities in Ethiopia.

Disappointment For Half-dimers

Coins Bearing Date of 1802 May Be as High as $150, But Many of Others Are Just Worth Face Value, Expert Tells The Times

Disappointment is awaiting Victorians and other Canadians who have been unearthing United States half-dimes in the belief that they might be worth $150. A dispatch from St. Thomas, Ont., was responsible for the excitement.

Mrs. E. D. Wismer, 645 Fort Street, who makes a study of coins, this morning brought to the newspaper of The Times a list of the present market values of these half-dimes.

Many of the coins are worth just their face value, she said. Half-dimes bearing the date 1802 may, however, be worth $150 if in good condition.

The prices given to The Times by Mrs. Wismer this morning were as follows:

Coins dated 1794 to 1805 vary from fifty cents to $150, with 1802 valued at from $25 to $150.

Coins dated 1829 from five cents to $2.

Coins dated 1853 from five to ten cents. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3.)

Majority Report on Inquiry at Cumberland Finds Against Attitude of Men Who Quit Work at Canadian Collieries; Minority Report Supports Men

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 6.—Contentions of Canadian Collieries Limited, Cumberland, B.C., were upheld to-day in a majority report of a conciliation board, appointed to investigate labor disputes between the Vancouver Island coal mine and its employees.

The majority report was signed by J. A. Russell, chairman, and George Kidd, representing the company. The men's representative, C. M. Stewart, signed the minority report upholding the men's claims and attacking the company's contentions.

STARTED IN AUGUST

The dispute dated back to last August, when the men walked out one day and the company locked them out the next. The men claimed the company was violating its agreement with them in awarding contracts to some of its employees for removal of coal. In turn, the contractors hired miners who inevitably made more money than men working directly for the company at union rates. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1.)

NEW YORK IN WINTER GARB

Broadway, which lately has been made a kaleidoscope of color as theatre business swelled, again living up to its designation of pre-neon sign days, "The Great White Way." The first heavy snowstorm of the season had just draped it in an ermine mantle, against which the glowing lights shone like a grande dame's jewels when the above picture was taken. That is Broadway at the left, looking north from 46th Street across Longacre Square. Soon after the above glimpse the streets were the scene of New Year's revels.

Deaths of Officers Linked To Trapped Seattle Gangsters

One Suspected Safe-cracker Slain, Three Wounded and Captured and Attorney Held and Questioned After Trap Sprung in Bakery and Tear Gas Used to Smoke Out House

Associated Press
Seattle, Jan. 6.—Detective Capt. Ernest W. Yorl to-day said three wounded safe-cracker suspects, captured in a rapid-fire roundup in which one other was shot to death, would be questioned about the slaying of two patrolmen here six weeks ago.

"The breaking up of this gang will clear up most of the safe cracking jobs this past fall," he said. "We will also question them about the shooting of Patrolmen Trent A. Sickles and Theodore E. Stevens, killed when they tried to break up a beer tavern robbery."

A well-known Seattle lawyer, John F. Garvin, who was arrested at the home in which two of the suspects were found, was still in custody to-day. They were driven out by tear gas, a few hours after the attempted robbery early Sunday morning.

"Garvin tells a good, reasonable story," Yorl said. "He said he had been an attorney for one of them, and they contacted him. He said he had advised them to give themselves up."

BRITISH SHIPS CARRY TROOPS

Several Liners Transformed and Put in Mediterranean Service

London, Jan. 6.—The Cunard-White Star liner Seythia has been converted into an army transport, it was disclosed to-day. The 17,961-ton steamship has been taken off her Atlantic run and will sail January 8 with troops and guns, probably for Alexandria.

It was reported two other Cunarders, the Laconia, 19,695 tons, and the Samaria, 19,597 tons, would be requisitioned next. Meantime it was said in unofficial quarters that Britain has postponed her decision on further sanctions with just before Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, the new Foreign Secretary, leaves for the Geneva Council meeting.

At that meeting the question of embarking on shipments to Italy will come up. It is scheduled for January 20.

"JAYSIE" CANCELS TALKS

New York, Jan. 6 (Associated Press).—Dr. John P. Condon announced yesterday evening he had cancelled scheduled stage appearances to deliver talks on law enforcement because of what he called an erroneous impression he was exploiting the Lindbergh case, in which he had been a prominent figure.

HE MAY QUIT FRENCH CABINET

EDOUARD HERRIOT

Paris, Jan. 6.—Persistent rumors were heard in political circles here to-day that former Premier Edouard Herriot had decided to resign as minister of state in the Laval government. Mr. Herriot resigned recently as president of the powerful Radical Socialist Party.

Naval Conference In Gloomy Session

Anthony Eden Elected Chairman as Delegates Resume Discussion in London

Associated Press
London, Jan. 6.—Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, succeeded Sir Samuel Hoare as president of the London Naval Conference in a brief session to-day at which French and Italian spokesmen outlined plans for a compromise settlement of the limitation problem.

Resuming their sessions where they left off at the start of the Christmas holidays, the delegates faced a critical turn toward the security of limitation or the danger of a shipbuilding race.

The French explained a limitation plan generally following the lines of the British proposal to reveal building programmes, but with announcement of projected building to cover a shorter period.

The Italians also gave notice they will suggest a building programme and limitation plan generally similar to the British proposal to reveal building programmes, but with announcement of projected building to cover a shorter period.

The atmosphere was undeniably gloomy.

Students Are Back at School

City Schools Open After Vacation With Few Pupils on Sick List

Victoria's schools, from receiving classes to second year college, returned to activity to-day as students, fresh from a two weeks' vacation, re-entered their classrooms for the spring term. The next holiday for those in the elementary and high schools will be at Easter, while College students will be settling down at that time for a final examination routine.

No epidemics of children's diseases or other obstruction prevented the opening of any of the city schools to-day and the young pupils showed particularly good attendance on the first day of the new term.

NEW REGISTRATIONS

A considerable number of young children were admitted to the receiving classes of the different elementary institutions but few changes were seen in the student bodies in other divisions.

During the holidays the schools were subject to the customary vacation cleaning and things were generally in order when the pupils entered their classes to embark on new studies and the various sporting activities which will claim much of their 'extramural time from now until the summer months.

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 6.—Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, former Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain, and Mrs. Ferguson will leave to-night for New York, from where they will sail for South Africa on a two or three months' vacation. The purpose of the trip is to improve Mrs. Ferguson's health.

Ottawa Hearing Set For Jan. 15

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 6.—Canadian reform legislation is in for a Supreme Court test similar to those which upset the Agricultural Adjustment Act and the National Industry Recovery Act in the United States.

Decision of the United States Supreme Court to-day in holding the AAA ultra vires of the United States Congress is of absorbing interest here because the issues before the courts in the two countries parallel one another in some respects. The Dominion Government has referred eight Canadian statutes to the Supreme Court of Canada for an opinion as to their validity. All were passed during the Bennett administration. Hearing of the reference begins January 15.

Apart from the legal aspect, there loomed a possibility that Canadian farmers might suffer from a drop in prices in the United States. The effect of the Washington decision on commodity prices will be closely watched.

CATTLE SHIPMENTS

Recently high prices for cattle in the United States have resulted in a renewal of Canadian exports of cattle despite the high tariff. With a lower tariff now in effect as a result of the Canada-United States trade agreement an increase in this movement was looked for, but a fall in the (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6.)

Largest Peace-time Request in History Made of Congress By Roosevelt

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 6.—A national defence budget of nearly $1,000,000,000—largest peace-time sum ever asked for strictly military and naval purposes—went to the United States Congress to-day from President Roosevelt.

He estimated $937,751,966 would be required in the 1936-37 fiscal year for both the army and navy. A $193,000,000 increase over estimated 1935 expenditures would be devoted largely to the acquisition of new (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4.)

London, Jan. 6.—A Reuter News Agency dispatch from Copenhagen said to-day the Greenland administrative board announced a serious influenza epidemic, ravaging the east coast of Greenland since mid-December, was spreading.

OTTAWA CABINET SPEEDS UP PLANS

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 6.—Two days earlier than had been anticipated Prime Minister King called the first 1936 meeting of the cabinet for 3.30 this afternoon.

It was not known what matters had arisen to alter the plans of the government which were to hold the first session of the year Wednesday.

SESSION DATE IS EXPECTED

House Opening Likely to Be Settled Before Premier Leaves For East

The date for the opening of the third session of British Columbia's eighteenth Legislature probably will be announced to-morrow.

Premier Pattullo indicated to-day the government has under advisement the time when it will be prepared to meet the members and it was hoped to have the proclamation issued before he and two of his ministers leave for Ottawa to attend conference committee meetings.

It is customary to give thirty days' notice of the session to the members. Last year the proclamation was issued January 10 and the House met February 12.

Speculation on the probable opening date this year runs from February 11 all the way to February 25. The Premier has previously indicated the House would be called about the middle of February.

With the three leading members of the cabinet absent in Ottawa until near the end of this month the time element may force a later opening than last year. On the other hand the government has contemplated legislation and the budget well advanced so early in the year. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6.)

1936 Presidential Campaign Affected

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 6.—In a sweeping decision, the United States Supreme Court to-day ruled the entire Agricultural Adjustment Act programme was unconstitutional.

In an opinion read by Justice Roberts, the original Adjustment Act was declared to be "an invasion of states' rights" and beyond federal power under the "general welfare" clause.

If the farm aid legislation were valid, he said, it would be possible for Congress "to regulate industry in its most meticulous forms."

Speculation now the presidential campaign would be affected stirred instantly when the news reached the Capitol.

Legislators turned from the business of the examination of the 1936-37 New Deal budget to mull over the possibilities.

Republican determination on farm plank alternatives long had been awaiting the Supreme Court attitude.

What the New Deal would do was awaited eagerly.

IN THE SENATE

The news spread quickly about the Senate chamber, coming during the reading of the President's budget message. Wide grins appeared on the faces of several Republican senators and general conversation became so widespread on both sides that Vice-President Garner rapped for order. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 7.)

CONFUSION IN U.S. MARKETS

Flurry at New York and Chicago on Ruling Out of AAA

Associated Press
New York, Jan. 6.—The great securities and commodities markets of the United States were thrown into momentary confusion to-day by the Supreme Court decision ruling out the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

The first response was a flurry of buying in the New York Stock Exchange, the Chicago wheat pit and the New York cotton market, but second thoughts prompted selling and price trends were soon mixed.

A good part of extreme prices of 2 cents a bushel in wheat and more than a dollar a bale in cotton were soon lost. Sugar futures sagged.

Food stocks surged up $1 to $6 a share on the stock exchange, and seemed for a moment to be pulling most of the rest of the list up with them.

But selling quickly appeared in some of the merchandising and farm implement issues, as some traders foresaw possible impairment of farm purchasing power.

NEW LEGISLATION

Most quarters in Wall Street, however, were inclined to the view that since the decision had been rendered with Congress in session, new legislation would quickly be formulated to prevent any impairment of agricultural purchasing power.

BY-ELECTION IN ASSINIBOIA

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—As the cabinet met this afternoon eyes were on the constituency of Assiniboia, Sask., where in a by-election, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, is seeking a seat in the House of Commons. Mr. Gardiner has opposition in the person of William Irvine, former member for Weyburn, running on the platform of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

Sub-zero temperatures were expected to keep a percentage of the voters at home.

Coal Mine's Side In Dispute Upheld

The Federal Labor Department persuaded the men to go back to work and the company to accept them pending settlement of the dispute. The company, however, refused to re-employ twenty-six men although it agreed to take them back when work increased.

CHIEF ISSUE
The chief issue was whether the twenty-six men should be re-employed by the company, which insisted it already had more men at work than its sales warranted.

In his minority report Mr. Stewart found the company had broken its agreement with the men by establishing a new contract system three days before the men walked out. He claimed the men were warranted in a one-day walk-out to discuss the new agreement, although the company insisted it was a strike and gave it the excuse to lock out the men. Mr. Stewart also found favor in the rotation system of employment, which was another point at issue with the company.

DECLARED INEFFICIENT
In their majority report Mr. Kidd and Mr. Russell found against the rotation system because it was inefficient, inequitable and created dissatisfaction. They also agreed the company had not introduced a new contract system and that no break had been made in the agreement with the men. The twenty-six men, they found, had not been discriminated against "but were rather the victims of conditions brought about by the employees themselves through their grievance committee."

NEW NEGOTIATIONS
The majority report recommends "the employees withdraw from their present untenable position, appoint a new committee to negotiate a continuance of existing or amended agreement with the employer and withdraw from their present threatened strike attitude."

The majority report recommends the company carry out its assurance to take back the twenty-six men as soon as possible.

SEVEN LOSE LIVES IN FIRE

One in Critical Condition After Blaze in Massachusetts Inn

Associated Press
Westfield, Mass., Jan. 5.—The death toll of the fire that destroyed the Van Deusen Inn yesterday evening was definitely set at seven to-day, with no known missing and one person in a critical condition in the Noble Hospital.

The revised death list: Miss M. Grace Fickett, member of the teaching staff of the Westfield State Teachers College.

Mrs. Minnie S. Jones, sixty-four, of Dr. George C. Jones, Henry Van Deusen, eighteen, son of Spencer Van Deusen, owner of the Inn.

George Alexander, sixty-nine, insurance man, father of Mrs. Spencer Van Deusen.

Miss Bertha Malone.

Glido Berardino.

Spencer Van Deusen, forty-five, is on the danger list in the hospital, where six other persons also were taken for treatment of burns which were not considered serious.

Transformed three weeks ago from an old residence and opened for permanent guests, the three-story brick veneer structure burned like match-wood.

Before trying to check the blaze firemen endeavored to rescue the forty guests, many of whom clung to third-story window sills or huddled in narrow, unburned parts of a flat roof at the rear.

CAMOUFLAGE FOR RED CROSS TENTS

Associated Press

Addis Ababa, Jan. 6.—A suggestion Red Cross tents and ambulances be camouflaged, so they may operate safely in Ethiopia, was made to-day by Dr. Fridtjof Hylander in a telegram to the International Red Cross organization at Geneva.

Dr. Hylander, commander of the Swedish Red Cross unit on the southern front, was wounded in the Italian bombardment last Monday near Dolo, in which his unit was destroyed, two Swedish Red Cross workers wounded fatally and twenty-eight Ethiopians killed.

Four Reported Dead in Fire

Associated Press

Moncton, N.B., Dec. 8.—Death of four members of a family in a fire at Pacific Junction, thirteen miles from here, was reported to Canadian National Railway officials here to-day. Those who lost their lives are believed to have been Phillip Blake, his wife and two children.

The station agent at the junction reported to railway authorities he was told by a man the bodies of Mrs. Blake and one of her children had been found near the station where they made their home. The man added he had seen what appeared to be the body of Blake in the cellar and evidence another of the children had perished when the building burned.

PIONEER OF NANAIMO DIES

Associated Press

Nanaimo, Jan. 6.—The city has lost one of its pioneer residents in the death of Mrs. Lena Elizabeth Wilson, sixty-eight.

Mrs. Wilson was born in England, and had resided in this district for the last forty years.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Walter Green, two sons, J. Wilson, a Victoria, an engineer on the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, and Thomas Wilson of Chemainus.

Mrs. Wismer explained that the actual age of a coin had very little to do with its value to collectors. The price depended on the rarity of the coin. For instance, 1894 United States dime rated as high as $100, and some 1913 U.S. nickels brought in $50.

Mrs. J. W. Ashley of Duncan has written to The Times stating that she has two half-dimes, dated 1866 and 1872.

"I hate to appear a spoil sport, but here are a few," said Frank LeRoy this morning, and from a bag of old coins he produced ten half-dimes, three of them dated 1872 and others dated 1868, 1871, 1878, 1873, 1889 and 1897.

Among the many other coins were: A United States half-cent, 1854; a U.S. ten-cent piece, 1831; two United States three-cent pieces, one small one dated 1853 and a large one dated 1865; a United States two-cent piece, a Queen Anne shilling, a 1689 half-crown and an 1872 twopenny bit.

Mr. LeRoy had also an American Indian head nickel which one of its former owners had taken the trouble to change, the Indian head having been turned into the head of a white man wearing a hat.

J. M. Kirk, 1611 Pembroke Street, also reported possession of three U.S. half-dimes, two dated 1871 and one dated 1872.

They have served him as lucky charms as he carried them through the Great War, in which he was stoker petty officer.

Mr. Kirk secured half-dimes at different times in change when he was making purchases.

George Jones, 1480 Lang Street, is in possession of three half-dimes, dated 1872, 1861 and 1863. Mr. George also has a United States three-cent piece, dated 1861, and a Spanish coin with Carlos IV on it, made in the year 1800.

Frank Speed, 3216 Quadra Street, has a half dime, dated 1872.

Mrs. Dorothy Hunter, Devonshire House is in possession of a half dime, dated 1878. Mrs. Hunter also has a three-farthing English piece dated 1878.

fighting ships, aircraft and personnel in the year starting July 1.

Taking notice of the lack of progress at the London Naval Conference toward a new limitations agreement, the United States government has decided to build up the fleet to full treaty strength by 1942.

For the army, provision was asked for purchase of 507 new airplanes, more tanks, armored and combat cars, an increase in the number of West Point cadets and in the national guard.

In connection with naval outlays, a White House analysis said, carry-over and emergency funds would make $21,900,000 available for spending compared with $203,500,000 in 1934.

Counting unexpended balances, it was estimated $248,000,000 would be available for 1937 to provide for continuing work on the ninety-four naval vessels now under construction and for beginning work on two destroyers and six submarines to be laid down at the beginning of the 1937 fiscal year, compared with $233,000,000 for 1936.

including advance contract authorizations, $27,860,000 was placed in the budget estimate for naval aircraft purchases, which was estimated, would provide 377 new airplanes.

An increase of $17,000,000 was provided so that 6,500 additional men might be recruited to bring the enlisted strength up to 100,000 by June 30, 1937.

Italians Rain Bombs As Ethiopians Attack

Reports received here said the Ethiopian leader had moved three columns of 20,000 men each and first skirmishes were reported on the right bank of the Ganale Doria River.

MOVE ON DOLO
First objective of the southern army was understood to be recapture of Dolo, on the border of Italian Somaliland, where last week Italian planes bombed a Swedish Red Cross field hospital.

One of the columns followed the Kenya frontier where Gen. Gudoro Graziani, commander of the Italian southern army, has placed columns of native Debat troops, supported by armored cars. Italian bombers were reported ready to launch an air attack on the advancing forces.

A Reuter dispatch from Mogadishu, Italian Somaliland key port, to-day quoted Gen. Graziani as saying he was impatient for the Ethiopian attack.

By MARK HARRON

Associated Press Correspondent

Dolo, Ethiopia, Jan. 6.—Italian armies on the southern front, thrusting forward to determine the strength of their enemy, encountered Ethiopian raiders in a dense jungle thirty-five miles north of Dolo, and fought a two-day battle, with 150 Ethiopians slain but only one white Italian soldier killed.

The battle was fought near Areri in the valley of the Ganale Doria River.

Following was hand-to-hand unit Italian reinforcements rushed up with armored cars and machine gun squads, routing the Ethiopians.

Ethiopian sharpshooters harassed an Italian tank which had been unable to move in the desert sand, but the tank reinforcements, in a wild counter-attack, rescued the stalled tank.

IMPORTANT ENGAGEMENT
The battle, military observers said, was important because the Italians on the Somali front had recently been on the defensive.

"We are now prepared to drive forward," said an Italian officer.

The battle showed the centre column of Ethiopians in the south is the strongest and in the most advanced position.

The right column of the Ethiopian army, which is moving also along the Gostro River, also has been contacted by the Italians.

Ras Desta Demtu, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie, leads the Ethiopian southern army.

PROTECTION BY AIR
Stockholm, Jan. 6 (Canadian Press from Havas)—A plea for "universal solidarity" to protect the Red Cross emblem was read from the pulpit of every church in Sweden yesterday as indignation over the bombing of the Swedish Red Cross unit in southern Ethiopia continued.

Mr. Erling Eldem, Archbishop of Upsala, in a pastoral letter to the Swedish clergy, called on the people to demand "universal solidarity to the international emblem under our protection."

The suspension order was put in effect by the late U.P.A. Government just before vacating office.

From Great Lakes to Rockies Winter Holds Land in Its Grip

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Jan. 6.—Winter's frosty breath sent temperatures tumbling across Canada to-day, from the head of the Great Lakes to the Rockies it was cold—the coldest it has been since 1936 ushered in.

A stormy week-end in Saskatchewan gave way to clear frosty weather for the voters in the Assembly by-election, where Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal Minister of Agriculture, and W. Irvine, C.C.F. are candidates. Low thermometer readings, however, did not augur well for a record vote.

Regina's lowest reading was 30 degrees below zero, but by 10 a.m., M.S.T., it was 20 below. About three inches of snow fell during the week-end. Saskatoon reported 29 degrees below zero with considerable week-end snow.

IN MANITOBA
Manitoba warmed up a little, but not much. From Sunday and Saturday readings of 30 below the mercury rose to around 10 below, but a biting north wind made it seem colder than that at Winnipeg.

The head of the lakes area reported zero reading, while on the Pacific Coast it was cloudy and chilly.

Deaths of Officers Linked to Trapped Seattle Gangsters

INGLEADER, KILLED
The man killed was Carl Thomas, thirty-five, suspected ringleader of the gang. Those critically wounded are Joe O. Neal, former Seattle policeman, recently paroled from the state penitentiary, where he had been committed for taking part in a $22,000 robbery of a Seattle department store in 1934, and T. Hull, forty-two, whose police records show, recently was released from the penitentiary at New Westminster, B.C., after serving a term for robbery by violence.

The fourth man wounded is Dale Arthur, twenty-nine. He has a superficial wound in the chin.

None of the ambushing officers was hurt.

Neal and Hull, despite their wounds, dashed away from the bakery in a hall of slugs fired from the shoulders of the officers.

Again acting on advance information, the officers, after Arthur had been arrested, raced to a house on the Seattle-Tacoma highway.

TEAR GAS ATTACK
Officers then opened an attack on the house with tear gas bombs, throwing them through windows.

J. E. Boleck, thirty-five, county employee and owner of the house, was the first to appear. He admitted the officers. They arrested him, the two wounded suspects, Garvin and two women. Two others, J. W. Brown and Herb Hollowell, manager of a Seattle garage, were arrested later in the downtown section.

Boleck later was released.

The women, Mrs. Rae Miller, twenty-nine, and Miss Eleanor Adams, Neal and Hull, Garvin, Brown and Hollowell were still being held in the city jail to-day for questioning.

NOT SUSPECTED
Foris said none of those arrested, except Neal and Hull, was suspected of having been implicated in any robberies.

Garvin, a former assistant United States attorney here, explained he was rooming at the Boleck home and that Neal and Hull were clients.

Only to-day President Roosevelt informed Congress he was removing the AAA from "emergency" status to that of a regular government activity. In his budget, he asked appropriation of $4,000,000 to carry it through the fiscal year beginning July 1.

GREAT AMOUNT PAID
Since May, 1935, over $1,127,000,000 had been paid farmers for crop adjustments. The corn-hog programme was most expensive, amounting to $678,000,000.

Meat packers, wheat millers and cotton spinners paid in about twomanent operating costs, as differentiated from "emergency" outlays, exceeded comparative "regular" costs of recent years by around $2,000,000,000.

In a new expression of policy, Mr. Roosevelt moved federal public works, the Civilian Conservation Corps and agricultural benefit payments from the category of "emergency" to "regular" federal activities. "Success" justified the change, he said, of "regular" expenditures. It was said, would leave a $5,000,000 surplus of revenue (before relief costs) as a result of "increased earning power and profits throughout the nation and not from the new taxes imposed" last summer.

CREDIT IS HIGH
In defence of New Deal financial policy, Mr. Roosevelt added: "The credit of the government is at its highest. The average business man of the nation stand ready to do their share."

"It is to be hoped the motives and attacks which spring only from the desire for political or financial power on the part of the few will not retard the steady progress we are making."

"Secure in the knowledge that steadily decreasing deficits will turn in time into steadily increasing surpluses, and that it is the deficit of to-day which is making possible the surplus of to-morrow, let us pursue the course we have mapped."

$2,000,000,000 FOR RELIEF
Mr. Roosevelt's nearest hit of how much future relief requests may be was: "I do not anticipate the need for additional relief funds will be as great as $2,136,000,000."

"To state the case even more precisely, the gross deficit of the government in 1934 was $3,869,000,000; in 1935, $3,375,000,000; in 1936 (estimate), $2,234,000,000, and in 1937 (estimated but not including any new appropriations for work relief), $1,000,000,000."

"Therefore, it is clear . . . that since June 30, 1934, the gross deficit of the government shows a steady decrease during the fiscal years 1935 and 1936 . . ."

FOR FARMERS
While the absence of requests for new taxes was stressed, the President included two restatements:

"He repeated his processing taxes under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration should be invalidated by the Supreme Court, 'We will have to face the problem of financing existing contracts for benefit payments out of some form of new taxes.'"

2. If Congress votes expenditures outside of budget estimates, "I strongly urge additional taxes be provided to cover such charges."

Mr. Roosevelt estimated gross receipts for the new fiscal year at $5,594,217,650, compared with $4,410,799,940 for the current period. Aside from a general revenue rise based on business improvement, the 1937 total included $547,000,000 of social security, rail pension and Guffey coal law taxes.

Gross outlays for 1937—including the $1,103,000,000 carryover for relief, but not additional demands to be estimated later—were put at $6,752,606,870. This compared with $7,845,301,338 for 1936.

Ottawa Hearing Set For Jan. 15

United States price level might negative any benefit.

The closest parallel to the AAA among the Canadian statutes now before the Supreme Court of Canada is the Natural Products Marketing Act and roughly the same points will have to be settled before a ruling on its validity can be given.

In the United States the federal authority based its claim on the articles of the constitution giving it control of interstate commerce and the right to levy taxes. The British North America Act, the Canadian constitution, gives the federal government control over property and civil rights, and also unrestricted powers of taxation.

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS
In the AAA case the court decided the legislation was not properly concerned with either interstate trade or taxation, yet fell within the legislative competence of state legislatures. In Canada the same question will have to be settled in the light of the act of the provincial legislatures have control over property and civil rights.

The federal power is in a stronger legal position in Canada than in the United States, however, because it is clothed with all residuary powers which, under the United States constitution, belong to the states. Residual powers are those not specifically mentioned in the constitution as assigned to either the national or local parliament.

The other statutes before the Supreme Court of Canada are: The Employment and Social Insurance Act, the Limitation of Hours of Work Act, the Minimum Wage Act, the Day of Rest Act, the Dominion Trade and Industry Commission Act and certain sections of the Criminal Code aimed at undesirable business practices.

SESSION DATE IS EXPECTED

It is unlikely, the Premier intimated, that a decision will be reached to-morrow on the rearrangement of relief grants to municipalities. Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, conferred to-day with his officers on this question, but it was doubtful he would have a plan ready to present to the cabinet to-morrow. The full cabinet will not assemble again until the Ottawa delegation returns.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau reported to-day a "mutually satisfactory agreement" had been reached in silver conferences with Eduardo Suarez, Mexican Finance Minister.

1936 Presidential Campaign Affected

CONFERENCE HELD
President Roosevelt called Attorney-General Cummings and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to the White House during the afternoon to study the court's decision.

Silent on the blow, Mr. Roosevelt made it known he would have other conferences during the next three or four days before an announcement by him.

COMPULSORY PURPOSE
Justice Roberts said the farm plan was "not in essence voluntary." "It had a compulsory purpose," he declared.

"If the act called only for a voluntary plan it would be no better."

The decision was 6 to 3.

Justice Stone, Brandeis and Cardozo dissented.

BIG SUMS DUE
Presumably, the government will seek to find a way to pay approximately $500,000,000 due on contracts still unpaid.

Federal lawyers have indicated belief these can be considered being government obligations. It remains to be worked out, however.

Justice Roberts said the AAA Amendments enacted last August made no differences as Congress could not ratify something it did not have the power to do originally.

REDISTRIBUTION
"Congress might redistribute the entire industrial population if this act were upheld," he said.

"The United States government could destroy local self-government." As soon as he had finished Justice Stone read the dissenting opinion.

"PARITY" PRICES
The announced goal of the AAA had been to give farmers "parity" prices for their products.

Parity prices were considered those which would enable the farmers to buy now the amount of manufactured goods they could have bought with the cash their crops brought in the average between 1909 and 1914.

Parity prices also were described as the "fair exchange value."

A recent AAA compilation showed prices received by farmers for their products was averaging 88 per cent of parity. This was a gain of 8 per cent over the same date in 1935.

The AAA attempted, it was said, to make benefit payments which, added to the farm value for crops, would give the farmers a parity price income for their labors.

Only to-day President Roosevelt informed Congress he was removing the AAA from "emergency" status to that of a regular government activity. In his budget, he asked appropriation of $4,000,000 to carry it through the fiscal year beginning July 1.

GREAT AMOUNT PAID
Since May, 1935, over $1,127,000,000 had been paid farmers for crop adjustments. The corn-hog programme was most expensive, amounting to $678,000,000.

thirds of the processing taxes. The last figures showed hog levies collected were $267,516,800; cotton, $263,139,204; and wheat, $247,228,745. Officials estimated more than $150,000,000 in processing taxes now are impounded in the courts under injunctions granted since last spring. These funds now evidently will be returned to those who sued.

The decision altered the record of the New Deal before the county's highest tribunal.

NRA IN DISCARD
The NRA lost out in the spring unanimously, the oil-control section eight to one, the rail pension plan failed by five to four, and the invalidation of the gold payment in private contracts won only by the margin of one.

In addition, the Fraser-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium—which the President signed although he had not proposed it—was ruled against unanimously. All nine justices held Mr. Roosevelt went beyond the law in summarily dissolving the late William Humphrey from the trade commission.

FIND PLOT TO DIVERT ARMS

Missing Carload of French Rifles and Machine Guns Believed Intended For Italy

Associated Press

Paris, Jan. 6.—The French Government, it was disclosed to-day, is investigating a suspected plot to divert 5,000 army rifles and machine guns to Italy.

A carload of arms disappeared from the Toulouse freight yard on January 4.

After a hasty check-up, it was learned the car had been routed to the port of La Nouvelle, where, authorities said, the load could easily have been transferred to a ship.

Officials suspected the unauthorized routing was perpetrated by persons seeking to get the arms to Italy.

Some also thought the carload might have been intended for a Spanish revolutionary group.

Washington, Jan. 6 (Associated Press)—The U.S. Supreme Court adjourned to-day until next Monday without announcing decisions on the Tennessee Valley Act and the Bankhead Cotton Act. The rulings may come a week hence or later.

HARMSWORTH
RACE PLANS

Detroit, Jan. 6.—The next race for the Harmsworth Trophy, emblem of the world speedboat championship, held by Gar Wood, may be run in the Detroit River under revised rules agreed upon by the Yachtmen's Association of America and the Royal Motor Yacht Club of England.

J. Lee Barrett, secretary of the Y.A.A., announced Saturday that seven rule changes were adopted recently.

The new rules permit returning the race to the course in the Detroit River between Belle Isle and the United States shore, where the races were held until 1931, when Kaye Don overtook on a sharp turn while driving Miss England II at high speed.

The races in 1932 and in 1933 were held in the St. Clair River, near Algonac, where a longer straightaway is provided. The new rule does away with the three-mile straightaway requirement adopted after Don's accident.

OTHER CHANGES

Of the two other rules put forward by the Americans, one moves the deadline for challenge back from March 1 to January 1, thus giving the challenger more time to prepare, and the other requires that the start and finish of the course, but not the entire course, must be in the waters of the defending country. This will permit running around Belle Isle, where part of the course would be in Canadian waters.

The British suggestions adopted follow:

Only one boat, instead of as many as three, as in some past years, shall represent each country.

Particulars of the course are to be forwarded to the challenger within twenty-eight days after acceptance of the challenge, instead of within two months as formerly.

A boat unable to finish the course three hours after the winner has crossed the line shall be disqualified for that race only, but may race in the next heat.

If a boat is disabled and its crew is obliged to call on outside aid or to accept a tow, it shall be disqualified for that race only, and is not out for the series, as under the old rule.

British, French and Italian sportsmen have been reported in recent months working on boats with which to challenge Wood, whose most recent Miss America holds the world record of 124.86 miles an hour.

DAY OF PRAYER
IN VANCOUVER

Citizens Give Thanks For Progress; Mayor and Aldermen Attend Two Services

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 6.—Vancouver offered thanks in its churches yesterday for the removal of "commercialized vice and crime and the return of peace and order," in accordance with its "day of service, humiliation and prayer," as proclaimed by Mayor C. G. MacKenzie the second such day since he took office.

The mayor, accompanied by the members of the city council and other civic officials and escorted by twenty-four police officers, attended the morning service at Christ Church Cathedral and the evening service at St. Andrew's-Wesley Church (United Church of Canada).

While a bright sun streamed through the stained glass windows of Christ Church Cathedral on a hushed congregation, swelled almost to overflowing, Rev. F. H. Wilkinson, M.A., B.D., asked "God's blessing on this city in this year of jubilee."

FOURFOLD PURPOSE

"Fellow citizens, we are assembled here on this first Sunday morning of the year of grace 1936 with a fourfold purpose," said Mr. Wilkinson, who is soon to become rector of the Church of St. James the Apostle in Montreal.

"First," he said, "to thank Almighty God for His mercies to our city in the past; to make solemn acknowledgment to the 'authority of the Most High God in our civic life; to pray for the mayor, the aldermen, judges and magistrates, members of the school board and all civic officials that they may be endowed with courage, intelligence, imagination and unselfishness, and that the citizens may be joined with them in mutual service."

"Lastly," the rector continued, "to confess that we have fallen short of that righteousness which alone exalts a nation, that often we have been preoccupied with selfish ends and to ask the Divine forgiveness and pledge ourselves afresh to the service of God and this community."

The words of the General Confession were then read.

SHAKE HANDS

The mayor and officials mingled with the citizenry a moment after the service in the crisp January air outside before His Worship entered his car and was driven off, while the police guard stood at attention.

Similar civic services were held in churches of other denominations. January 6 last year, shortly after Mr. MacKenzie had taken office, was the first "day of service, humiliation and prayer" proclaimed by the mayor, and Vancouver went to church with him then—just as it did yesterday.

PIPE ASHES
CAUSE FIRE

Overcome when he rushed into a smoke-filled room to rescue his dog, Crispin E. Smith, aged resident of 115 Crest Street, had to be carried from his home by firemen early Sunday morning. He was taken to the Jubilee Hospital suffering from burns about the hands and face but was not seriously injured.

Dr. Thomas McPherson attended him.

According to firemen, Mr. Smith was seated in front of a heater in his room. He is believed to have dozed off to sleep and dropped his lighted pipe, which ignited a cushion on the chair.

Mr. Smith was safely out of the house when firemen arrived, but went back to rescue his dog. The smoke by this time was too much for him and firemen who followed him in carried him out to safety.

Atom-splitting
Efforts Widen

New Machine Is Tested at University of California

Berkeley, Calif., Jan. 6.—Opening of "new fields for research" by a 10 to 20 per cent step up of an atom-splitting machine to 6,000,000 or more volts was disclosed at the weekend.

The machine, the cyclotron, has been the means of much research into the structure of matter at the University of California. It was designed originally by Dr. E. O. Lawrence, and the enlargements and improvements were designed by Dr. Donald Cooksey, visiting research worker from Yale University.

A university announcement said: "The present cyclotron set-up will produce artificially radioactive substances in quantities large enough for testing in connection with medical and biological problems for which radium is now the only available solution. Also it will produce experimental intensities of a new, very powerful ray, known as the neutron ray, which is more penetrating and more highly endowed with energy than the X-ray."

NAZIS TO TRAIN

Boys and Girls Between 10 and 18 to Be Drafted Into Hitler Organizations

Associated Press
Berlin, Jan. 6.—Adolf Hitler is preparing during 1936 to draft all of Germany's boys and girls between the ages of ten and eighteen into a gigantic "state youth" organization to serve National Socialism.

About 12,000,000 youths, it was said to-day, will be affected. It is planned to make the membership compulsory as are the labor service and the Reich military training.

Der Fuehrer's aim, as he expressed it at the recent Nuremberg convention of the Nazi party, is to take the Reich's future citizens early, train them young and conduct them through labor service and military training, then into military reserve organizations with simultaneous membership in either the brown-shirted storm troops or the Schutz Staffeln, Hitler's black-shirted guard group.

"This message does not mean equal rights, but only equal injustice for all. For this reason it leaves a bitter taste, despite its pacifist keynote."

Rev. C. G. MacKenzie Presents Inspiring Address at Civic Service

Possession of good critical faculties, creative qualities and the ability to co-operate were cardinal requisites for good citizenship, Rev. C. G. MacKenzie, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association, said in the address which featured the annual civic service at Christ Church Cathedral yesterday afternoon.

Attended by Mayor David Leeming and his 1936 council the service opened with the hymn "Now Thank We All Our God."

It was followed by the invocation by Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, bishop-coadjutor of Columbia.

The congregation stood to sing Psalm cxviii, "I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me."

Mayor Leeming read the lesson, taken from Matt. iv 23-25; and Matt. v 1-6, 43-48.

Rev. T. H. McAllister read the prayer after which the hymn "Lord of Heaven, and Earth, and Ocean" was sung.

Following Mr. MacKenzie's address and before the hymn "These Things Shall Be: a Lifter Race," a collection was taken for the Unemployed Citizens' Recreation Rooms and the John Howard Society. The service closed with a verse of the National Anthem.

ADDRESS

Mr. MacKenzie took for his subject the Acts xxi verse 39 "But Paul Said: I Am a Man Which Am a Jew of Tarsus, a City of Cilicia, a Citizen of No Mean City."

He spoke of the manner in which the new order of things had caused the church to join civic and municipal leaders in taking an interest in the physical welfare of people as well as in their spiritual life. The church, he said, was traditionally more interested in man's eternal life, but had occasion now to look after his temporal well to a certain extent.

The elimination of the formal and somewhat artificial for the more humanitarian platform for the civic good did not remove the people or the church further from God, he said, but gave a more conception of the principles of the abiding city.

Mr. MacKenzie spoke of the high regard for citizenship held by the Romans and contrasted it with the more technical side of citizenship prevalent in Canada. Citizenship was far greater than the ownership of property or the success a man attained in business. Qualities of mind and soul were required in the true citizen, he said.

A strong critical faculty, which made the man break down the bounds of a narrow horizon was required, together with the creative ability which gave him the power to build on broad lines for civic welfare.

"We have used our creative powers to produce, but we have not used them fully to care for the problems of citizenship," Mr. MacKenzie said. To harmonize the critical and the creative and weld the two characteristics into an effective force a high spirit of co-operation was needed, the speaker said.

The solution of present-day problems, Mr. MacKenzie said, rested largely with the cities. Empires of the past were remembered by their cities and he mentioned Nineveh, Rome and Jerusalem. Unless the cities of to-day took cognizance of the causes for failures in the past then they, too, would fail.

In his own question "what makes a city abide?" he said it required more than a firm foundation of rock. In addition to physical, moral and intellectual greatness the city must be built by God.

Vancouver, Jan. 6.—C. G. Pennock, president of the British Columbia Council of the St. John Ambulance Association, has been advised from London that he has been honored with the title of Knight of Grace of the Order of Saint John of Jerusalem.

There are only three other persons in British Columbia who have been so honored, Lieutenant-Governor J. W. Fordham, Johnsen Senator J. H. King and Dr. W. B. Brydson-Jack. Mr. Pennock was already a commander of the order, and has been actively engaged in the work of the St. John Ambulance Association since coming to British Columbia more than twenty-six years ago. He was vice-president of the Dominion Council of the order from 1915 to 1920.

Election of Three Party Leaders Contested in Quebec

Quebec, Jan. 6.—Quebec politics were in the spotlight to-day with a number of contestations entered in the Superior Court. Among the nine members-elect whose election November 25 is being challenged are Premier Taschereau, Maurice Duplessis, Conservative leader, and Paul Gouin, head of the Action Libérale Nationale.

Contestation of the election of Mr. Gouin in L'Assomption had already been announced, but the actions against Premier Taschereau and Mr. Duplessis at the week-end came as a surprise. Premier Taschereau was declared elected with a majority of about 600 votes over Dr. Felix Roy, A.L.N. candidate. Mr. Duplessis retained Three Rivers by more than 1,200 votes, the largest majority ever given a candidate in that constituency.

The six other members-elect whose election is challenged are: Jean Rochon, Liberal, Two Mountains; Dr. Zenon Leasage, Conservative, Montreal-Laurier; Francois Leduc, Conservative, Laval; P. A. Berthier, Conservative, St. Sauveur; Joseph Cohen, Liberal, Montreal-St. Lawrence, and Henry L. Auger, Conservative, Montreal-St. James.

CORRUPTION CHARGED

In all cases affidavits accompanying the action in contestation charge electoral corruption and irregularities. The action against Mr. Gouin is to be entered in the Joliette Superior Court to-morrow.

Action to unseat Premier Taschereau was taken on behalf of Joseph Come Ricard, merchant of Ste. Anne de Beaupre. It is the first time in the thirty-five years Mr. Taschereau has represented Montmagny that such action has been taken against him.

"It is the first time also Mr. Duplessis has faced similar action. In the provincial election of 1931 he won the seat with a majority of only forty votes and no challenge came to his election at that time."

NO DECISION BEFORE
HOUSE OPENS

It is not likely any of the actions can be disposed of before Premier Taschereau sets the date for the opening of the first session of the Nineteenth Quebec Legislature, probably toward the beginning of February. Thus at the opening of the House the strength of the parties may be the same as after the election November 25.

The Liberal government counts forty-eight members, less the one who will be chosen Speaker. The Conservatives have sixteen members, and the A.L.N. twenty-six. The working difference between the administration forces and those of the allied parties therefore is five.

Mr. MacKenzie took for his subject the Acts xxi verse 39 "But Paul Said: I Am a Man Which Am a Jew of Tarsus, a City of Cilicia, a Citizen of No Mean City."

NEW DRIVE ON
CRIME IN U.S.President Roosevelt Asks
Congress to Vote Funds
For 307 More G-men

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 6.—President Roosevelt asked to-day for 307 more detectives, an anti-crime college for district attorneys and more prison guards to tighten protection in the United States against the lawless.

His 1937 budget recommendations to Congress proposed strengthening four major detective agencies with 112 new G-men, eighty-five new post office inspectors, sixty new secret service men and fifty new treasury special agents.

The more than 600 G-men who would be in the field under the plan would launch a redoubled drive on bank robbers, under a new law extending their investigations to robberies of all banks insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

They would pursue violators in newly-opened field of federal investigation—interstate transportation of stolen property, fleeing from federal custody, interstate "racketeering"—as well as kidnapping, white slave trading, and the interstate transportation of stolen automobiles.

The proposed staff of 500 post office inspectors would investigate mail frauds to an extent now impossible. The 200 G-men of the Internal Revenue Bureau would seek evidence to send gang leaders to jail for income tax evasion as they did Al Capone.

Most of the new secret service men would chase counterfeiters.

BOMBINGS ARE PROTESTED

Canadian Press
Montreal, Jan. 6.—The newly-formed Afro-Canadian League yesterday evening sent a resolution to Prime Minister King protesting the "brutal and inhuman attack on Red Cross bases in Ethiopia by the Italian air force."

As a member of the League of Nations, the Dominion of Canada should demand enforcement of the "fullest penalties against the Fascist aggressors," the resolution says.

The meeting which framed the resolution was made up largely of negroes.

SOUTH ALBERTA "BEATING BACK"

THE LETHBRIDGE HERALD GIVES some striking facts upon which it bases its conclusion that economic recovery in southern Alberta is no myth. It singles out as the highlight of the year confidence regained in industry and trade, and despite a somewhat lower visible income than in 1934, the year 1935 maintained a larger spending power than in any year since the more or less halcyon days of 1930.

It is noted by The Herald, too, that bank clearings showed a gain last year of more than $3,000,000, compared with 1934, evidence in itself that a good deal more money was in circulation. The capital outlay in building in Lethbridge alone, moreover, revealed an increase of $50,000, while customs returns were within a few thousand dollars of the all-time record of $1,202,000 established in 1934.

Apparently retail business was on a higher level in 1935 than in 1934, and other evidences of the progress which The Herald has observed in its annual survey as far as South Alberta is concerned include the fact that there is not a vacant house in Lethbridge, despite new homes and the increase in the number of apartments and duplex houses. More important still, perhaps, is the fact that there is not a vacant store in the city. Another reliable barometer is that tax payments have been the best in years.

The Herald also significantly notes "that more farmers are financing themselves from wheat held in reserve in bins on their own farms. Instead of going to the bank and borrowing to put in the new crop and take off the harvest, they are hauling a load of wheat when they need funds. They are contracting less debts against next year's crop, and they are able to keep their bills paid in a more satisfactory manner. The fact that, though the 1935 crop was smaller than average, the 1935 payments on machinery accounts were 5 per cent higher than in 1934, is evidence, that the new policy in farm financing is working out satisfactorily."

It might be recorded that in the twenty-five years of the annual holding of the International Hay and Grain Show at Chicago, Alberta has turned out the champion wheat kings in nine of those years. Last year, Mr. W. Frelan Wilford, of Staveland, on the Macleod subdivision of the Canadian Pacific Railway, carried off the honors. And Mr. H. Graham, also of Alberta, at the same show, established himself as the world's bean king.

It is gratifying everywhere to learn that South Alberta is "Beating Back." As one province beats back, other provinces feel a beneficial reaction. The Herald is to be congratulated upon the exhaustive survey of economic conditions in the communities which it serves—as represented in its issue of December 31, 1935.

JOHNSON OF GUELPH

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF CANADA have won renown abroad in many fields of endeavor. Not a few of them have gained distinction in British and United States public life, in education, literature, the church, art, industry, finance, science, exploration and on the battlefield, and this record is becoming more impressive every year. A recent conspicuous instance is the rise to world eminence of Edward Johnson, manager of the famous Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, under whose direction this celebrated organization is on the high road to a measure of success unsurpassed even in the days of Graus.

Edward Johnson was born in Guelph, and began his musical career as a boy singer in a church choir. As he grew to manhood he continued his studies at home and abroad finally gravitating into grand opera. Before long his exceptionally fine tenor voice, splendid acting and marked intellectual qualities, carried him into the vanguard of premier artists of the world operatic circles and he became an outstanding attraction at the Metropolitan, starting with Caruso, Scotti, Alda, Farrar, Schipa, Etori, Pons and many others whose names are household words. When Caruso's golden voice was stilling forever, Gatti-Cazassa, manager of the Metropolitan, looked about for a successor, and the mantle fell upon Johnson.

During the depression the Metropolitan Opera House, like everything else except the armament industry, fell upon hard times. Although it continued to present performances of the first magnitude it was unable to balance its budget and its sponsors and directors were almost in despair. Then the gifted artists took part in a campaign for its financial revival. Headed by Miss Bori and Mr. Johnson they stepped across the footlights and made wide appeals for support through the press and over the radio. In their new roles they got much closer to the public than they had been in their operatic parts. The performances of the company were broadcast over the radio. They were so successful in arousing the practical interest of the people all over the continent in the welfare of the Metropolitan that when Gatti-Cazassa resigned the management went to one of the singers, first Herbert Witherspoon, and then, upon the death of that fine artist, to Edward Johnson. Recent dispatches from New York report capacity houses for the performances at the Metropolitan, and while an improvement in economic conditions is credited with its fair share of responsibility for this revival, it is generally admitted that the new manager and his talented colleagues have been important factors in the process.

Manager Johnson evidently conceives the Metropolitan Opera House to be more than an amusement centre. To him it is an institution which should do more than cultivate box office receipts and furnish its directors with satisfactory balance sheets; it should discover and encourage musical talent, and help lay the foundation of successful careers for those who have been gifted with promising singing voices. Hence, the Metropolitan's scope and influence are being broadened to an extent undreamed of at any other time, and in consequence it is recovering all of its past glory.

Guelph is justifiably proud of its distinguished son. Nor is Edward Johnson the only product of this Ontario town to shed lustre upon it by unusual achievement abroad. From its neighborhood also came James J. Hill, the great empire builder of the west, whose activities as a railroad man made him an international figure a generation ago, and left an impression upon the transportation structure of this continent which never will be effaced. There is a spacious range between the grand opera firmament and the building and operating of a railroad on a vast scale, but Guelph can contemplate with no little elation the prospect that Johnson will become as famous at the Metropolitan as Jim Hill was at St. Paul.

MR. MAGRATH RETIRES

THE RECENT RESIGNATION OF MR. C. A. Magrath as chairman of the Canadian section of the International Joint Commission, with which he was connected for nearly twenty-five years, was the occasion of many tributes to one whose name will remain prominently on the roll of Canada's nation builders. Mr. Magrath's activities have been so comprehensive and diversified that it would require a volume to deal with them adequately. An able engineer, he has been connected with many big development enterprises in the west, which first claimed his interest more than fifty years ago. He has been active in public life, in municipal councils, provincial legislatures and Parliament at Ottawa. Until recently he was head of the Hydro-Electric Commission of Ontario. He has written prolifically and lectured frequently on Canadian problems.

The International Joint Commission was formed more than twenty-five years ago for the settlement of the numerous differences which were bound to arise along the international boundary. It consists of an equal number of Canadians and representatives of the United States. In its scope the Commission has been a perfect model of smooth and effective operation. Its members, all appointed for their ability and disinterestedness, deal with difficult and complicated matters in the spirit of mutual trust and understanding, sometimes sitting in the United States and sometimes in Canada. Almost informally, in that spirit it has ironed out differences which in Europe would have brought nations to the verge of war.

Mr. Magrath's ability as a negotiator and his high-minded performance of his duties as chairman of the Canadian section, were emphasized by the fact that although he was appointed by a Conservative government he retained that office during the ten years of Mr. Mackenzie King's administration. He is well known in Victoria, where he has been a frequent visitor and which, it is understood, will be his home. Although he has reached his seventy-fifth milestone, he retains his physical fitness and mental alertness to an extent which is signally gratifying to his many friends who will hope that he will continue to make important contributions, out of his wide experience and knowledge, to the solution of Canada's problems.

A GOOD SIGN

SAVINGS DEPOSITS IN CANADIAN banks, as reported at November 30, 1935, were up $9,000,000, as compared with those for October 31, 1935, and $63,000,000 higher than on November 30, 1934.

We are told from Ottawa that call loans in Canada were $22,000,000 greater than on October 31, but down slightly as compared with the same date a year ago. Current loans in Canada were slightly up from October 31, but $15,000,000 lower than November 31, 1934.

Deposits outside Canada were up $6,000,000 in the month, and $56,000,000 in the year. They included $28,099,295 in currency other than Canadian on deposit in Canadian chartered banks on November 30.

Canada may not be as well off as she might like to be commercially, but given a fair opportunity she will emerge from the depression in a relatively short time.

Newspapers tell us that Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden's star "strides high in the heavens." It is to be hoped he will not be a fallen star like Sir Samuel Hoare, who also blazed brightly in the stellar firmament a few months ago.

"Jobless youth—a world-wide problem." This is the title of an article in the official organ of Rotary. It is a world-wide problem. The new thousands of young men and women who join the unemployed ranks every year emphasize it.

ABOUT THOSE RESOLUTIONS

At resolution-making I
Go very bravely leaping.
But all my courage seems to fly
From resolution-keeping.

I know the way; I see the light.
I've learned what follies hurt me.
But let temptation come in sight
And grit and cense desert me.

I row to curb my appetite.
I still eat pie and cheese at night.
Though torture's sure to follow.

I would be well when I am sick.
And good when I'm a sinner.
Unto my diet I can stick
Except when I'm at dinner.

When pain disturbs me I deplore
Fried food, that great upreter.
But still I try it just once more
The moment I feel better.

I know the way I ought to go.
But it's a dreary, long way.
And so in spite of what I know
I better like my own way.

PEEPING TOMS

THE LINDERBERGS don't seem to get any more privacy in Britain than they did at home. The crowds are just as curious and noxious as in America. No man's house is his castle any more if he has managed to become a celebrity.

This is no casual occurrence. This is part of a deep current phenomenon, a strange instinct in our civilization. It is part of the new age of leisure in which the race has acquired a great deal of spare time and doesn't know what to do with it. Like a street corner loafer, with nothing better to do, it has developed a habit of ogling passers-by and staring into car windows. We have become, in fact, a race of Peeping Toms.

This indecent, smirking curiosity has reached such a point now that a vast publishing industry lives on it. More and more the magazines are becoming simply inventories of strange and rather disagreeable facts about notable persons. The New Yorker, probably the most successful publication launched in America in the last ten years, is built almost entirely on that psychology. It gives you the dirt. It gives its readers a feeling of class, of sophistication, of smartness, when they have a lot of perfectly useless knowledge about a lot of useless people.

Down in Hollywood they have built a great magazine industry simply by chronicling the love life and adulteries of the movie colony.

Mr. Stanley Walker, the famous New York city editor, has devoted his new book, "Mrs. Astor's Horse," to similar revelations, which are sure-fire. He reaches a grand climax by revealing the private plumbing arrangements and the style of bathroom fixtures used by various notable Americans.

It is all very charming, but when we attain the real life of leisure and have nothing to do but stand on street corners, there won't be much left for the Toms to peep at.

BEAR

MY GOOD FRIEND, Capt. Sid Leary, a Liberal whip in the Legislature, has lately poured out his heart to a sympathetic newspaper correspondent and told the thrilling story of his life. In brief, omitting all the delightful trimmings, Capt. Leary says he fell into a hollow tree but couldn't climb out again. A bear came down the trunk, returned to his den and plumped at Leary's feet. The bear grabbed his tail and stabbed him in the rear with his penknife. The bear scrambled up the tree, Capt. Leary clinging to his tail and shrieking like a wild Indian. The bear fell from the tree to the ground and broke his neck. Capt. Leary fell into politics and became the Liberal whip.

I suppose the mainland newspapers gave this story prominence because of the sound moral which Capt. Leary teaches. The moral, so far as I can make out, is that you should never play with bears or you may end up in the Legislature.

MARATHON

THE MARATHON newspaper controversy between Mr. Sanders and Mr. Jull concerning Social Credit continues to mar the peace of our island. Mr. Sanders' latest broadside is a special announcement from the great Cole, of Oxford, that he does not hold the views which Mr. Jull credited him with. This seems to be a pretty stiff one for Mr. Jull, but he shouldn't worry too much. Only Mr. Sanders and a dozen others have read Mr. Cole and most of the population hasn't yet found out what the argument is about.

The fact in crude laymen's language, seems to be that Mr. Cole doesn't believe in Abernethy, McGerran, Foster, Creditism or any of these forms of monetary magic. He doesn't think any of them will work unless we go the whole way into socialism.

After deep thought and after listening to Mr. McGerran for two years and Mr. Abernethy for two hours and Messrs. Sanders and Jull for more than a lifetime, I am inclined to think that Mr. Cole is right. This will be comforting to him, no doubt, and a terrific blow for Major Douglas.

ing to Mr. McGerran for two years and Mr. Abernethy for two hours and Messrs. Sanders and Jull for more than a lifetime, I am inclined to think that Mr. Cole is right. This will be comforting to him, no doubt, and a terrific blow for Major Douglas.

Social Credit proposes to confer all the advantages of socialism and regimentation without any of their obvious disadvantages. It says that the whole economic system can be reformed and made to work by socializing only its media of exchange. It thus proposes that capitalism shall have its cake and eat it.

But when you push an eminent monetary reformer against the wall and hold him there with a loaded gun, you will find him admitting that once the state has socialized credit and money and used the mechanism of credit and money to provide social dividends and plenty for all, it must go a lot further. It must regulate all the economic activities of the people from top to bottom, all foreign trade, all profits, the amount which shall be invested in consumer goods and in productive plant. To co-relate all these things and prevent a complete chaos, the state will have to go so far into business within a few months that will end by socializing everything.

If social crediters foresee this, they

ON TIPTOE

DID YOU KNOW, said the little girl from next door, "this is a new year? It's 1936."

"Why is it 1936?" said her brother. "Because," said she with some scorn, "last year was 1935."

"That seems silly," said he. "Anyways, it doesn't look any different to me. My watch doesn't go any better. It's still dead. And Smoky still bites me."

"The New Year," said she, "came in on tiptoe so quietly that no one could hear it."

"I heard it whistling and ringing down town," said he. "It made an awful racket. And they were singing at Mr. Beck's house very loud. They always sing at Mr. Beck's house when they're happy. But it makes Mr. Beck cranky next day."

"I saw a pitcher in a magazine of the new year," said she, "and it was a little bit without any clothes on him."

"That's lucky," said he, "that the weather wasn't cold when he came in. The Friendly Help or the Celebration Army would give him some clothes."

"Don't be silly," said she. "It's a year not a boy and you should make some good resolutions. I've made a resolution not to be wicked, not once all the year."

"I made a resolution not to hit my finger again with my new hammer," said he, displaying a bandaged thumb. "That's my resolution. I guess I won't put Smoky's tail either. Not so much, anyways."

"And I decided," said she, "that if I ever should be wicked by any chance, I'll be wicked with mummy, because daddy spansks so much harder."

That the question of placing the wires underground is one which affects the whole city in a very direct way is the opinion of Ernest McGaffey, secretary of the Vancouver Island Development League, who because of long experience in municipal matters in many of the larger cities of the continent is in an exceptionally good position to offer advice on the present occasion.

Workers are busy in the east half of the ground floor of the new Times building, getting it ready for occupation by the Eastern Townships Bank, a branch of which is to be opened in this city about January 16.

The win leaves Kimberley in the lead with their record unblemished. Nelson is next; Trail in the third place and Rossland in the cellar.

NINE TO BE QUEEN

If the Prince of Wales remains a bachelor, and the fate rule her way, a queen again is likely to reign in Great Britain. That queen is being prepared for possible rule even to-day in the person of the blue-eyed, golden-haired daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, Princess "Lilibet."

Princess Mary Elizabeth, who in her earlier years played out the "Lilibet," which caught popular fancy, was born on April 21, 1926, and became third in line of succession to the British throne, after the Prince of Wales and her father, the Duke of York.

Nevertheless, the bright little princess is being brought up in as simple a manner as her position permits. She has already turned over the Shetland pony that her grandfather, King George, had given her, to her younger sister, Margaret Rose, and has taken to more sober play and study.

In honor of this young royal princess, Canada placed her portrait on one of the stamps in its series issued recently in commemoration of the silver jubilee of King George's reign. The stamp is shown here.

Dr. Riddell was named to be honorary president representing the government delegates. Honorary presidents were also elected to represent employers and labor.

MISTAKE PERMITS SLAM

Declarer's Playing Leads Opponent to Figure Hand Incorrectly, and So Lose Setting Trick

By WM. E. MCKENNEY

Give your opponents a chance to make a mistake. This little bit of advice led Jack Peagin of Macon, Ga., to make a grand slam, doubled, with to-day's hand.

Two no trump is an exceptionally strong bid. After North's response of four no trump, South is anxious to arrive at a grand slam. West's double of the seven diamonds is very bad, as it tips off where the outstanding high cards are.

After the opening club lead, declarer can see that his contract will be defeated, because he knows that West must hold the king of hearts, to justify his double. There is only one chance to make the hand and that is to have the jack of spades drop. No use trifling the spades out, because you will not be able to dispose of the ten of hearts.

As the hand stands, the ten of hearts can be discarded on dummy's long trump. When Peagin played the hand, he decided that if West had the jack of spades protected he might discard some small spades at the first opportunity. Therefore, this is the line of play employed by Peagin.

At a later meeting the ladies will elect their own members to the directorate.

Congratulations of the society were extended to C. W. Stirling of North Saanich, originator of the Stirling Pea, which was awarded reserve championship at the Chicago Grain Show. Mr. Stirling has been asked to accept an honorary membership in the society.

W. D. Mitchell and Jas. Turner were also congratulated on their recent successes as exhibitors at the Vancouver Winter Fair. The secretary was instructed to send letters of congratulation to C. Lines and I. G. Wilson, both of Sidney, in connection with the splendid showing made by these boys at the B.C. Annual Seed and Root Fair held in Vancouver last month. Awards were as follows: C. Lines, second award in amateur potato class section; also second award in boys' and girls' potato section; I. G. Wilson, fifth award in amateur potato class.

The date of the Sixty-eighth Annual Fall Fair of the Agricultural Society was fixed for Tuesday and Wednesday, September 8 and 9.

Today's Contract Problem

South is playing the contract at four spades. After winning the first trick West shifts to the queen of hearts. What is the next play declarer must make?

THE PLAY

The opening club lead was won with the queen and a small diamond was won with the ace. The jack of diamonds was returned and, when West played the queen, the trick was won with dummy's king.

Dummy's ace of spades was cashed. Now the ace and king of clubs were cashed, establishing West's eight-spot. The ten of diamonds was played. West, of course, protecting his king of hearts, let go of a small spade. Declarer followed with the seven of diamonds.

Now West figures that he need not protect his jack of spades, because he feels that, if declarer had a losing spade, why did not he ruff it?

Of course, as soon as West does let go of a spade, the hand is made, as declarer will overtake the seven of diamonds with dummy's nine-spot, return the six of diamonds, and discard the ten of hearts.

Now a small heart is played and won with the ace, and the last three tricks are won with the king, queen and ten of spades.

CHILD'S FACE DEPENDS ON STRAIGHT TEETH

Permanently Deformed Features Result From Dental Crowding and Misshaping of Jaws During Early Years

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

The appearance of your child depends greatly on the attention you pay to his teeth.

It is for the purpose of preventing deformities in the teeth, and resultant misshaping of the face, that a new specialty in dentistry, called orthodontia, has grown up. Such specialists seek to restore the teeth and prevent further deformities.

The first thing an orthodontist wants to know, when he sees a child with a queer-shaped mouth, is whether the youngster has any bad habits, like thumb-sucking, and whether it has trouble breathing because of an obstruction in the nose. Then he wants to know whether removal of these causes would improve the looks of the teeth.

If this occurs before the permanent teeth come out, the dentist wants to know whether disappearance of the baby teeth and coming of the permanent teeth will take care of the trouble. If not, he takes measures to bring about a normal appearance.

Sometimes some of the teeth must be extracted to make room for the rest. In other cases, the teeth must be wedged apart.

Generally, if the baby teeth are crowded and the jaws do not shut well, you won't find any improvement when the permanent teeth come through. In fact, the condition might get worse.

You should see, therefore, that a competent dentist begins work on the teeth when the child is only from four to six years old, to get what help may be given at these ages.

It is not likely that the elimination of thumb-sucking and mouth breathing will cure the irregularity of the teeth, but certainly these conditions should be attended to because they make any kind of cure difficult, even with the best of dental care.

Between the ages of six and nine, the permanent incisors take the place of the smaller milk teeth. Proper spacing is necessary so that these teeth will come in straight and true.

The canine teeth come in between eleven and twelve years and fill the gap between the incisor teeth and the first premolars. If there is crowding, these teeth will be forced outward and resemble miniature tusks. In other cases they may press on the incisor teeth beside them and tilt these teeth outward.

Then come the second, or twelve-year-old molars, which may also push forward the teeth in front of them and make any degree of crowding worse. From seventeen years onward, the third molars, or wisdom teeth, come in.

X-ray pictures of such development will show whether the teeth and gums are healthy, and whether the teeth are coming through normally.

The job of straightening the teeth is a long, tedious affair, involving considerable interference with the child's life and being exceedingly costly. If the teeth get proper care early enough, however, the mouth may be in fairly good shape by the age of twelve and the expense thereafter will be much less.

SOROPTIMISTS HOLD DINNER

Officers Installed at Ceremony at Empress Hotel Saturday Evening

Officers of the Soroptimist Club, including the new president, Mrs. Florence Nutrie, were installed with ceremony at the dinner held on Saturday evening in the Princess Charlotte dining-room at the Empress Hotel. About forty, including ten guests from the Vancouver club and representatives of local service clubs and other organizations, attended the affair.

Under the artistic direction of Mrs. Fred Robertson the table was attractively centred with red berries, frosted cones and fir sprigs, and illuminated with blue and gold tapers, the club colors.

Mrs. Helen Nutrie acted as toastmistress. Miss Olive Heritage proposed the toast to "Our City," promising the club's co-operation in any progressive measure for the welfare of the community. Alderman Walter Lunny, who represented the City, in his response, congratulated the club on its programme of service, and suggested that members attend the council and learn first-hand of some of the problems dealt with. He seized the occasion to pay a warm tribute to the late Miss M. A. Wigley of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, eulogizing her work in connection with the Women's Workroom.

In toasting "Our Guests," Miss D. W. Atkins extended a greeting to the visitors, with particular reference to Mrs. Anna Spratt, regional director of Soroptimist clubs, and Mrs. Mary Ellen Crehan, immediate past president of the American Soroptimist Federation, who were present from Vancouver, together with ten members of the Vancouver club.

Herbert J. Pender, president of the Rotary Club, responded, assuring the gathering of the readiness of his club to co-operate with the women at any time, and reciting some of the advantages of membership in an international organization.

Miss N. Foxall proposing the toast to "Federation," recalled that the first Soroptimist Club had been formed fifteen years ago, with federation following about seven years ago. Mrs. Crehan, past president of Federation, responded, showing the value of international organizations in cementing world friendship.

Mrs. Spratt also spoke of the growth of the Soroptimist movement, and its junior outgrowth, the Venture Club. Mrs. Julie Goy brought greetings from Vancouver.

C. H. French was also a special guest, representing the Service Clubs' Council. Mrs. H. L. Mallett, a new member, was welcomed.

MUSICAL NUMBERS: A delightful musical programme included songs by Miss Doreen Wilson, accompanied at the piano by Miss Sheila Conway.

The final incident of the evening was the presentation to the newly installed president, Mrs. Florence Nutrie, of a basket of pale gold chrysanthemums. Mrs. Robertson making the gift on behalf of the members.

Another girl from the club was named to Mrs. Crehan to be presented to the retiring president, Mrs. Dorothy Spratt, whose absence from the proceedings, owing to indisposition, was much regretted.

Weddings

PRICE-WILDERS

Vancouver, Jan. 6.—Before a bank of flowers and ferns, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Lemuel Nicholson of West Forty-ninth, Cecelia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilders, became the bride of Captain Earl M. Price, only son of Mr. Morgan E. Price, Bakersfield, California, and the late Mrs. Price, on Thursday, with the Rev. E. D. Braden officiating.

A princess gown of ivory satin was worn by the bride, moulded in sheath-like lines from the high neckline, until it flared from the knees to fall in a long train. Dainty pleating edged the collar and cuffs that ended the long orange-fitting sleeves. Two strands of orange blossoms held in place the long veil of embroidered net. Red roses and lilies of the valley were blended in her bouquet.

Accordian pleats moulded in long, simple Grecian lines the gown of peach georgette worn by the bridesmaid, Miss Isabel Wilders, and the same pleating gave the sleeves of her jacket their fullness. Her girle of the two flowers in her hair were of silver. The flowers in her bouquet were large shaggy mauve chrysanthemums.

Supporting the groom was Col. Sanborn of Bakersfield, California. During the signing of the register, "Because" was sung by Miss Marjorie Whitehead. When the ceremony was completed Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Wilders received the guests. In the upper room a low bowl of pink roses combined with white chrysanthemums centred the table, where white paper burned in silver holders. At the urns Mrs. K. C. Beckford and Mrs. H. S. Jamieson presided. Mr. Lemuel Nicholson toasted the bride, his niece.

When Mr. and Mrs. Price left for a honeymoon in the south, Mrs. Price was escorted in a black Russian suit, luxuriously furred about the throat and front of the coat in astrachan that shaded from soft grey to dark grey. A blouse of eggshell satin complemented the costume, which she adorned a long matching topcoat. Her Russian cap combined black astrachan with white velvet. Mr. and Mrs. Price will reside in Bakersfield, California.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Col. and Mrs. Sanborn of Bakersfield, Mrs. J. R. Douglas of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jamieson and Master Robert Jamieson, all of Victoria.

Revercomb of Jasmine Avenue, Margold, recently celebrated the fifty-second anniversary of their marriage, which took place in Winnipeg, December, 1883 where they resided until 1906, when they and the family moved to Victoria, where they have since made their home. The occasion was marked by a surprise party in their new home, where the members of their family gathered to pay their respects to the occasion, which is all the more unusual inasmuch as this happy couple enjoy an unbroken family circle of nine children, four sons and five daughters, nine grandchildren and three great grandchildren. The immediate members of their family with their wives and husbands present at the celebration were: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Revercomb, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Revercomb, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford and Mr. G. Revercomb. Those absent were Mrs. E. Brooke, Mr. and Mrs. G. Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Revercomb of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith of Vancouver.

Sister Superior, Sister Mary Theodore, Sister Mary Orlite and Sister Mary Gerard were also honored guests of the alumnae. The tea table, with its dainty lace cloth and Yuletide decorations of holly, poinsettias and tall red candles, was presided over by Mrs. W. Lloyd Morgan and Miss Mae Murray, president of the alumnae. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Fitzsimmons, Miss Helen Tyle, Miss Gladys Heston. Among the tea guests were Mrs. B. The GOLDEN FEATHER

By Robert Bruce. © 1935 MCA Series Inc.

They ate at a pleasant little restaurant near the federal building, and there Bobby gullibly told Larry just enough about Mark Hopkins's mysterious trip to what the federal man's interest. He did not tell him of having found the peculiar building in the folio of Pulaski Road, but he told him enough to convince him that he was on the trail of something.

"That's fine," said Larry. "As soon as you get anything definite, let me know so I can get some of our men working on it. You and Bobby—all I want from you is just a hint, no more than that. We can run it down. If our suspicions are correct running the thing down may be rather dangerous, and I don't want you to run any risk of getting hurt. Will you promise me to call me as soon as you have anything we can work on?"

He looked at Bobby with his keen grey eyes and Bobby solemnly promised. He felt a trifle guilty about concealing his knowledge; but he was determined to vindicate himself in the elder man's estimation for his lamentable flir in stolen bonds; and besides, he rather enjoyed the thrill of amateur detective work.

Their food was served and they began to eat. Larry carved off a bite of steak and ate it thoughtfully; then he laid down his fork and knife and leaned forward confidentially.

"I'm going to tell you something that you're not really entitled to know about," he said. "I wouldn't do it, except that it concerns Jean."

Bobby looked up, startled.

"We raided the apartment your friends the Lewises were occupying," said Larry. "They had got out before we got there, but we did get plenty of fingerprints. To-day I got the identifications back from Washington, and I want you to know about them."

To begin with your friend Lewis—the man who so kindly put that bond deal in your way—is a known criminal. He used to be a confidence man, out west—specialized in selling bogus oil and gold stocks, and did time in Colorado for swindling, some six or eight years ago. A year or so ago he fell in with the Red Jackson gang of bank robbers. Since then he has been one of Jackson's right-hand men. And this may interest you—it seems he specializes in disposing of the 'hot' securities that the gang picks up in its travels."

He looked at Bobby with a grimly humorous expression. Bobby could only murmur, "Good Lord!"

Larry went on, "But that isn't the most important part. It's this chap Harkins I wanted to tell you about, because he has been seeing more or less of Jean, I guess. Listen."

"We got his prints out of that apartment, too, and sent them in. And it develops that he is a gunman from Oklahoma. He did a term in the Oklahoma pen for robbery a few years ago. Came out on parole last summer, and is believed to have joined the Jackson gang shortly thereafter. His association with Lewis, of course, proves that he joined it."

"So that's who he is. You can see, now, can't you, why I hate to see Jean even listing him among her casual acquaintances? Fortunately, he's no more than that. But even so—"

"I'm not so sure," said Bobby miserably. "The other night, after you left her place, she and I—we had a kind of a quarrel about him. She said she had been seeing quite a lot of him. I'm—"

Larry looked worried.

"We can't have that," he said. "Damn it, Bobby, we've got to look out for that girl. We'll have to warn her as soon as she gets back to Denver."

Bobby stared unhappily at the table clock, remembering what had happened to him the last time he had tried to warn Jean about Sandy.

"Maybe you'd better speak to her about him," he said. "You're older. She would be more apt to listen to you. She would just think I was being jealous."

Larry nodded.

"I'll tell her," he said grimly. "It would be terrible if she let herself get entangled with a man like that. When is she coming back to Denver?"

"Next week, I guess," said Bobby. "Well, there's a breathing space," said Larry. "It's a cinch Harkins won't be showing up around here for a while yet. That outfit knows by this time that Denver is hot. He shook his head thoughtfully.

"I ought to have warned her as soon as I found out she had been a witness for him," he mused. Bobby looked up anxiously. "How was that?" he asked. Larry told him how Jean had gone to the police station to give a statement about the Friday afternoon of the payroll holdup.

Bobby wrinkled his forehead in a desperate effort to remember.

"Hey, wait!" he said. "Something's screwy somewhere. If she got the afternoon in, the day I went to see Montague—"

Larry, that was a Thursday, not a Friday!

"Thursday! Are you dead certain?"

"Of course I am."

Larry's lips tightened.

"We've got to let Jean know who this man is, and that she gets back," he said grimly. "We can't let her go on drifting toward trouble any longer."

But fate was against him. For when Jean returned, Larry Glenn was to be far away—and she refused even to listen to Bobby's attempts to warn her.

A big dark blue sedan sped swiftly along the concrete road. Its driver slouched behind the wheel, a cigarette drooping from his lips, his air one of careless negligence, but his eyes were alert, and his hands held the wheel firmly as the car hummed along at an even sixty-five miles an hour.

Thugs Put Radio Announcer on the Spot; Radio Announcer Puts Thugs on the Air Over Amateur Transmitter

Murray Bolen, "man about the studio" of station KFRC, Don Lee headquarters in San Francisco, co-starred in one New Year's broadcast not listed on the schedules. Early New Year's Day, about 2 a.m., Bolen was observing the city, in company with a fair companion, from the heights fronting San Francisco Bay, when his thoughts were interrupted with the crisp remark, "Stick 'em up!"

Up they went. And two intruders poked cocked revolvers at the pair.

On the dashboard of Murray's car is a tiny switch and that little bit of contraption is capable of setting in motion a miniature broadcasting transmitter which Bolen operates as a hobby.

With a kick of his foot, Bolen flipped the switch and for nearly five minutes the hold-up was a public matter, the conversation between Murray and the two thugs going out over the short wave amateur band of five meters.

Murray is awaiting a verification of this unique broadcast as it is probable that some amateur operator may have picked up the scraps of talk.

Net result: Four dollars of Murray's money in the bank; pocketed and an experience for Murray that seldom befalls a radio announcer.

Basketball Teams Resume League Play Wednesday Evening

Dominoes Battle College Outfit Saturday Night

Clever College of Puget Sound Squad Coming to Meet Canadian Champs

FINE LEAGUE TILTS CARDED

Keen collegiate opposition for Victoria's Dominoes on Saturday and resumption of league play in the city loop on Wednesday will feature basketball activities here this week.

On Saturday night the Dominoes will take the floor against the College of Puget Sound in what should prove one of the classic exhibitions in which the local Dominion champions have figured this year.

On Wednesday evening one Intermediate A and two senior B fixtures will be staged at the High gym. In the opener at 7:30 o'clock Regents will play Trade-A's, with Lake Hill meeting the Tillamooks in the interlude and Hoyle-Brown and West Saanich Mercantile capping off the programme.

Panoramic girls and Units will open Saturday's programme at 8 o'clock with Dominoes and the College of Puget Sound following at 9 o'clock.

On January 15, Burnetts will play Cardinals in the women's fixture. Hoyle-Brown will meet Regents in one Intermediate A battle and Chinese Students will play Lynn Patrick's Aces in the other fixture of the same division.

To College's will be making their first appearance in Victoria when they tackle the Dominoes on Saturday. The squad is reported to be an exceptionally strong aggregation and has been brought along by Roy Sandberg, one of the smartest coaches in the Pacific Northwest conference.

This year's Spaulding's Official Basketball Guide has the following to say about last year's squad: "College of Puget Sound had the surprise team of the conference. It was made up entirely of freshmen and sophomores and played brilliant basketball. C.P.S. opened the conference season by breaking even with the veteran College of the Pacific team, and a week later duplicated the feat against Willamette. They followed these two series by winning two games rather easily from Albany College. In the series against Whitman, Puget Sound held the home team to the closest scores recorded by any team playing at Walla Walla this year. C.P.S. closed the conference by defeating the College of Idaho. Stoffel at forward was the scoring ace of the team in most of their games. Tolleson performed brilliantly at times, and Smith was a dependable man throughout the entire season. As Sandberg will have his entire squad back he should have a wonderful team next season."

table tennis club on the lines of similar organizations in Seattle and Portland and the new alignment of the league as a home affair is expected to produce some lively discussions.

The secretary will also bring up the question of affiliation with the Canadian Table Tennis Association, which will give Victoria international status in that it places local players in the International Table Tennis Forum. Formation of a provincial body to be known as the B.C.T.T.A. will also be discussed.

SET TOURNEY DATES

Dates for the city championship and the Vancouver Island open championship, in which players from the mainland and across the border can compete will be set at the meeting.

Arrangements for a delegation of Victoria players to compete in the Washington State table tennis tournament to be held on January 13 will also be brought up for discussion.

It is understood that so far ten players have announced their intention to visit the Sound city and the secretary will bring up the matter of transportation and lodging.

Winners in Golf On Colwood Links

In the half-yearly eclectic competition at the Colwood Golf Club F. F. Seyward-Wilson won in the class A with a score of 50, with D. Randall second with 52. In class B, T. H. Leeming was the winner with 47 and J. H. Lee second with 48.

While playing in a foursome with A. D. Macey, W. F. Masters and A. J. Gray, Dr. C. J. Coulter scored a hole in one yesterday on 150-yard fourth hole.

Portland Buckaroos led Vancouver Lions by a single point to-day at the top of the Northwest Hockey League standings and the onrushing Seattle Sea Hawks were in a third-place tie with Calgary Tigers as the result of week-end fixtures.

The Bucs finally overhauled the Lions in Portland yesterday evening when they swamped Guy Patrick's men 7 to 3 to take over the league lead. Seattle drew level with Calgary by virtue of their 1 to 1 in Edmonton Saturday night.

The results increase the interest in to-night's fixtures. Lions will be at home to Portland with the leadership again at stake and Sea Hawks and Tigers will endeavor to decide the third-place ownership in Calgary.

PRATT OUTSTANDING

Four thousand fans saw Portland vanquish Lions with Jack Pratt, former coach of the Kimberley, B.C., amateurs, taking a leading role. Pratt assisted in three goals and climaxed his performance with eight seconds left to play in the final period by scoring unassisted to complete the count.

Johnny Clarke, Vancouver goalie, was withdrawn in favor of a forward in the last two minutes as Patrick sent five men, one player being in the cooler, up the ice in an attempt to save the game. The goal was unguarded when Pratt notched the final marker.

Louis Coupez, Harold Jempeon and Walter Macartney scored for Portland in the first period and Charles O'Neill and Hank Dyck counted for Vancouver. Bryan Hextall tied the score twenty seconds after the middle session began, but Macartney again put the Bucs in the lead.

Portland dominated the final session with Coupez and Ty Arbour finding the net before Pratt completed the scoring.

Ronnie Sutherland, Portland, and Frank Sheppard, Lion winger, drew five-minute penalties for swinging sticks at each other in the last period.

PLAY CLEAN HOCKEY

Emmett Venne gave a brilliant exhibition in the Seattle nets as the Sea Hawks earned a tie in the eighteen-below-zero weather at Edmonton. Not a single penalty was handed out during the game.

Johnny Houbrege gave Seattle a lead after four minutes of play in the first frame with Harold Taylor assisting but Manager Ronnie Martin made the play for the tying goal in the second with Nap Carriere on the scoring end.

The summary for the Portland-Vancouver game follows:

First period—1, Portland, Coupez (Pratt), 1:47; 2, Portland, Jempeon (Hemmerling), 4:05; 3, Vancouver, O'Neill (Smith), 7:15; 4, Portland, Macartney (Jempeon-Hemmerling), 8:28; 5, Vancouver, Dyck, 13:07.

Penalties: Hextall and Jempeon.

Second period—5, Vancouver, Hextall (Smith), 2:20; 7, Portland, Macartney (Hemmerling), 5:03. Penalty: Hutton.

Third period—8, Portland, Coupez (Blyth-Pratt), 1:33; 9, Portland, Arbour (Pratt), 9:28; 10, Portland, Pratt, 19:52. Penalties: Sutherland, Sheppard (five minutes each); Jempeon, O'Neill.

Philadelphia, Jan. 6.—Philadelphia Athletics have finally announced the trade of infielder Eric McNair and outfielder Doc Cramer to Boston Red Sox in exchange for pitcher Henry Johnson, infielder Alfred Niemce and an undisclosed sum in cash.

The deal, made known officially Saturday after having been reported a number of times, is part two in the A's Red Sox trading which began with the sale of first-baseman Jimmy Fox and pitcher Johnny Marcum to Boston last month.

No announcement of the cash involved was made, but estimates are that between $500,000 and $600,000 was deposited in the A's treasury in the two deals—that involving Fox and the one announced Saturday night.

RAIN ENDS CRICKET

Invercargill, New Zealand, Jan. 6.—Rain brought the cricket match between the touring Marybone Cricket Club and Southland to an abrupt close to-day, a draw resulting. The home players made fifty-three runs for four wickets in reply to M.C.C.'s total of 489 on Saturday when play was abandoned.

Play-off Split In N.H.L. Is Changed

Order of Finish in Regular Schedule Will Determine Amount of Money Clubs Will Receive; Governors Make Change to Eliminate Any "Jockeying"

Toronto, Jan. 6.—The order of finish in the National Hockey League race, beginning with this season, will determine the amount of money the first, second and third place teams in each division will receive. The money is proportion of play off and Stanley Cup receipts. In previous years each playoff team has been allotted the same amount.

At a long-drawn-out monthly meeting of the National League board of governors here Saturday it was decided the first team in each group would receive double the amount of the second place finishers, and the second-place club would receive twice as much as the third-place team.

One of the main reasons for the change is to prevent suspicion that any club "jockey" for a definite position in the league race in an effort to meet a certain team in the other section when playoffs arrive.

Another change in rules was agreed upon in connection with the playoff system. In other years after second and third places in the league had been decided, the second and third-place clubs played a home-and-home series for the right to meet the first-place winners in the finals. This season the second and third clubs will engage in a best two-of-three series before meeting the league champions. It was decided that in future re-series must pay more attention to infringement of holding and interference rules. Broadly, the rule means a player, not a puck-carrier, must not be interfered with by opposing players.

MINOR LEAGUE PROTESTS

A delegation from the International Hockey League, headed by president John D. Chick, Windsor, objected to certain clauses of the inter-league agreement, but their objections gained little ground. The N.H.L. governors decided that with but one minor change the agreement stood. The lone change involved money matters with regards to operating under an N.H.L. franchise in an I.H.L. city.

Settlement of the ownership of two players—one a professional and the other an amateur—concluded the meeting. President Calder ruled that goalkeeper Moe Roberts was the property of Cleveland Falcons of the International League. The ruling cleared up a dispute between New York Americans and the Cleveland club. Roberts has been connected with the Rochester team most of this season.

A Regina amateur, Byron McDonald, was the centre of the other player dispute. Both Philadelphia Ramblers of the Canadian-American League and Detroit of the N.H.L. laid claim to the player and after much arguing he was awarded to Detroit.

It was learned that the Cleveland club is almost certain of a berth in the N.H.L. starting with the 1936-37 season. Present plans call for a rink to be built during the coming summer, which will seat 10,000 persons.

BIG SEVEN OF MAJOR HOCKEY

Charlie Conacher, Toronto Leafs, and Paul Thompson, Chicago, were back in the lead among National Hockey League scorers to-day, tied with Bill Thoms, Toronto, who had the top spot all to himself for a few days.

Conacher and Thompson each scored a point in week-end games to bring their totals to seventeen points, while Boll was held scoreless.

Clyde Cook To

Catch Salmon

Screen Comedian Is Coming

Back Here, Likes Working

in Victoria

"Sure, I'm coming back. I'm going to catch some of those salmon . . . or else," said Clyde Cook, screen comedian, who has been taking an important part in "Tugboat Princess," the second picture to be made by Central Films Limited here.

Mr. Cook will leave for Hollywood to-morrow.

"This place is a paradise . . . Down in California we have to drive 200 miles and walk another 400 before we even see a duck. Then you can't get it. It takes too long to figure out if it's a mallard or what. There are so many game restrictions that we end up shooting sparrows," Mr. Cook continued.

"You need some new roads here. And some new street cars. There are lots of streets with cars running both ways which ought to be one-way. And the cars go around the corners with those long tail ends swinging out. If anyone should offer the sidewalk they'd get caught square in the back."

"The Malahat's a beautiful drive. ENJOYED WORKING HERE."

"I've enjoyed working here. It's wonderful what Mr. Bishop (Kenneth J. Bishop, president and producer of Central Films) has done here. It took twenty-five years to build up the movie business down in L.A. . . . It only took about twenty-five minutes here."

"The movie business is going to be the biggest boost this place ever had. It's the logical place. You have the climate and everything."

"The studio (in the Willows Industrial Building) is as good as any of the independents in Hollywood. They've got the equipment, especially the sound equipment. They can get as good results here as M.G.M. or anybody."

Mr. Cook said he thought "Tugboat Princess" would turn out to be a very good little picture."

He had much to say of the work of Edith Fellows, nine-year-old star of the film.

"There are two scenes in the picture that she absolutely made. An actress with twenty years on the stage couldn't have done better."

Mr. Cook has been in the movie business since 1919. He started out on the stage in New York, then went to Hollywood to make two-reelers for Fox. After that he went into feature pictures before the coming of sound. He made one or two features in the first days of sound. Then he went into retirement for a while and did a good deal of writing, which had always been his ambition.

Three years ago he went back to England to do some directing.

"I wanted to see what it felt like," he said.

He was not very happy in England. The place had changed too much. All the old spots he had known in London as a young man had gone. The old music halls had given place to modern picture palaces. "He was lonely. There were none of the people he used to know left."

Mr. Cook was born in Australia. "I may go back there some day," he mused. "I don't know. When I was a kid they used to have horse-drawn busses. We used to hang on the back and bum free rides. They had steam street cars in those days, too."

"Now they have underground railways and everything is electric. I'll probably find a 'big new college' where the school I went to used to be."

"Yes, I guess I'll go back there some day all the same, just to see what it looks like."

The provincial government formally took over the maintenance to-day of 1.6 miles of highway leading from East Saanich Road to the James Isipet ferry wharf. The road, previously owned and operated by the Mount Newton Cross Road, was classified as an arterial highway, implying government responsibility in maintaining the road. The road is in Saanich municipality.

S. S. TAYLOR, K.C.,

RECALLED TO BAR

S. S. Taylor, formerly a leading King's Counsel of the British Columbia Bar, who has been for the last fifteen years in California where he has become a member of the Bar of California, was to-day readmitted as a solicitor and recalled to the bar of this province.

The ceremony took place before Mr. Justice Robertson of the Supreme Court. Mr. Taylor was first called to the B.C. bar in 1898 and practiced in Vancouver until 1921. To-day he again took the oath and signed the same big red-leather registers of the profession he signed as a youth thirty-eight years ago.

Taking the oath with Mr. Taylor to-day and being called as a solicitor was Earl James Vance, president of the Alma Mater Society at the University of B.C. in 1922, and since then student in law under General J. A. Clark in Vancouver. His mother, Mrs. A. D. MacDonald, and his father-in-law, Mr. MacDonald, came over from Vancouver for the ceremony and with George Hibbard, an old friend of Vancouver, were the first to congratulate him.

The two were presented to the court by Lindley Crease, K.C.

"It is a pleasure to know you have recovered your health and are returning to practice in this province," Mr. Justice Robertson said to Mr. Taylor. "I hope your success in the future will be comparable to your success in the past."

To Mr. Vance, the justice spoke of the importance of living up to the ethics of the bar. "The study of the law does not cease with being called to the bar, if only commences," the justice said.

While the prairie provinces shivered in the icy grip of winter and lower temperatures hit provinces farther east, Victoria residents are exhibiting plump pussy willow blooms for the last ten days.

"Caddy" May Have Returned

C. L. Harrison and G. H. Deane See Strange Sea Mammal at Metchosisin

An unusual sea mammal, which, from the description by those who saw it, was not unlike Caddybaurus, Victoria's famed sea serpent which has not been sighted for more than a year, was seen at Taylor's Beach, Metchosisin, by C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, and George H. Deane, inspector of city schools, yesterday morning.

While Mr. Harrison and Mr. Deane will not vouch for the fact that what they saw was "Caddy" they both said it was something they had never seen before and it was "certainly unusual."

Mr. Harrison is convinced what he and Mr. Deane saw was not a seal, porpoise, shark or sea lion.

NO HEAD VISIBLE

They saw no head to the animal, but only a portion of the body which was hunched out of the water and moved towards William Head at a speed similar to that of a killer whale.

"I would not say it was Caddybaurus as I have never put a great deal of stock in the Caddybaurus story, but I am certain it was something I have never seen before," Mr. Harrison said.

Deane, who stood at the door of C. E. Whitney-Griffiths's cabin, "Ferncliffe," at Metchosisin, watched the animal while it rose out of the water four or five times. Mr. Harrison sighted it first and watched it for a time before calling Mr. Deane's attention to it.

"We saw it rise several times as it went towards William Head," Mr. Harrison said. "It struck me that it might have been a deformed animal as all we saw was what looked like a humped protruding out of the water. It had not attributes of a snake but I could judge it to be quite a large animal. The hump we saw was about two feet out of water."

VISION WAS GOOD

Visibility at the beach was perfect and there was no mistaking the sight, Mr. Harrison said. It was between 8:30 and 9 o'clock in the morning, the sea was calm and the sky was clear. The animal was between 200 and 300 feet from shore. "There was no fin visible and we could see no sign of a mouth, which might indicate it was a large seal," he said. "The animal was apparently a stranger to ducks as it caused quite a commotion among them as it proceeded on its way."

Neither Mr. Deane nor Mr. Harrison would say the animal was "Caddy," but from a diagram which Mr. Harrison drew, the hump which he saw resembled diagrams drawn by many other persons, some of whom have sworn they saw "Caddy."

Victorian Said to Have Perfect Plans Which May Go to British Government; Believe Spy Ring Here Seeking Them

Efforts of what may be a foreign spy ring to seize plans for a radio-controlled submarine recently invented in Victoria and ultimately intended to be offered the British government are reported here.

The submarine has been invented by a Victorian whose name is unknown at present. He is reported to be in hiding on Vancouver Island with his plans, pending application for patents.

The occasion of the attempt to steal the plans was made about two months ago when an office in which the plans were thought to have been entered and ransacked. The plans, however, have not been out of the hands of the inventor and the attempt failed.

According to available information experiments with the submarine have been conducted on the island. It is believed the ship could be maneuvered from shore, or aboard a warship, into an enemy port without danger of discovery. In time of war the bow of the craft would be loaded with explosives.

AGRICULTURE ANNIVERSARY

One Hundred and Fifty Years Old in B.C. Convention Learns

The 150th anniversary of the establishment of agriculture in the province was brought to the attention of the delegates of the Vancouver Island and Gulf Islands Farmers' Institutes meeting in annual convention at the Parliament Buildings this morning by J. B. Munro, deputy minister of Agriculture and superintendent of the Institutes.

"As this seems to be an open season for anniversaries, I would like to bring to your attention the fact that 150 years ago this year agriculture was established in British Columbia," he said.

The deputy minister pointed out that though mainland farmers and gardeners were intending to celebrate this event, it was hardly their anniversary. Agriculture was begun in the province as a whole 126 years ago, but it was started at Nootka on the island 150 years ago.

"They not only had a garden there, but they had some livestock in the shape of a couple of goats as well," he said. "Later the Spaniards brought rabbits and poultry and also a shipload of rats, so we had pests as well."

E. W. Neel, chairman of the convention, remarked that this was news to him. In a jocular vein he suggested that the government help them celebrate by giving them a rebate on all outstanding taxes.

Mr. Munro invited the delegates to a luncheon given in their honor by the Department of Agriculture at Spencer's dining-room.

He also announced that F. C. Boyes, of the Department of Labor, would speak to the convention in the afternoon on proposals for apprentices on farms.

New Industrial Act Planned

Labor Laws of B.C. May Be Consolidated in One Statute

The male and female Minimum Wage Acts and the Hours of Work Act in B.C. may be consolidated into one piece of industrial legislation.

As Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, held a conference this morning with the Board of Industrial Relations and wage inspectors, he said it was possible such a change would be undertaken.

The main purpose, he explained, would be to simplify the administration of the labor laws. At present when an industry comes under regulation it is necessary for the board to pass three separate orders, one under each law. This has a tendency to cause some confusion.

By including all the enactments under one law, it would be necessary to lay down just one set of regulations.

The minister did not indicate whether any major changes in the labor laws was being considered.

The meeting to-day was to iron out administrative difficulties.

Wage inspectors, from their experience, explained what they considered as inconsistencies and difficulties in enforcement of the statutes and also discussed their different problems with a view to securing uniform enforcement methods all over the province.

Some employers, it was learned, have complained that enforcement under a policy laid down five months ago, is too strict, and that they are convicted of technical violations without getting sufficient warning. There was no indication, however, that any change of attitude was considered in this regard.

O. A. Frith of Ymir, B.C., arrived in the city to-day to attend a directors' meeting of the Ymir Consolidated Gold Mine Ltd. He is registered at the Empress Hotel. Mr. Frith was manager of the Ymir Consolidated mine up to about a month ago, when he resigned.

Sylvia Sidney Will Play Here

Sylvia Sidney reaches the top of her form as a dramatic actress in her latest starring vehicle, "Mary Burns, Fugitive," a gripping, romantic drama of an innocent girl hunted by the law, which opens at the Dominion Theatre to-morrow.

An emotional revelation of a girl's tragic experiences, Miss Sidney's histrionic talents are given full rein in a characterization that justifies her ability for full dramatic power. Caught in a web of circumstantial evidence, an innocent victim of circumstances, her portrayal of "Mary Burns" is sympathetic, sincere and distinguished.

"Mary Burns, Fugitive" serves also to introduce Alan Baxter, new film find, who makes his debut in the drama. A recruit from the Broadway stage he is a refreshingly new personality, bringing an amazing understanding in a difficult role as a college bred gangster, revealing much potentiality for future stardom.

Young engaging, with plenty of talent, Baxter bears close watching.

Family Life Is What You Make It Says We Need to Cultivate Our Homes

THE MOST IMPORTANT THING in life to all of us, whether we be rich or poor or of high or low estate, is our family relationships. If these are satisfactory, all is well with us. If they are miserable, everything else is dull and takes in our teeth.

This being true, and all of us knowing that in life the analysis of our happiness depends not upon what we have or who we are, but on the way we get along with our own families and their attitude toward us, is it not strange that we expend so little effort toward making ourselves persons agreeable to our families, and cultivating the affection and admiration of those upon whose goodwill our well-being depends?

We don't, you know. We take it for granted that those who are bound to us by ties of marriage and blood will love us no matter how we treat them, and so there are, no other people to whom we are so universally rude and inconsiderate as we are to the members of our own households. No man would dream of saying the things to any other woman that he says to his wife. No wife would be guilty of telling any other man except her husband that she has heard his old story a thousand times, and for heaven's sake not to try to be funny when he goes out to dinner.

Nor would brothers and sisters tell their worst enemies the home truths that they tell each other. Yet it makes no real difference to the husband and wife or the brothers and sisters whether they tell themselves, as the phrase goes, to a chance stranger whom they may never meet again, but it is vital to them, that they should establish what diplomats call the entente cordiale with those with whom they must live every day.

Even a moron knows that the success of a marriage is assured by a couple using tact in dealing with each other and showing each other tenderness and consideration. As long as a man keeps wooing his wife and telling her how wonderful and beautiful she is and how lucky he is to have married her, she is blissfully content. As long as a wife yes-yesses her husband and makes him feel that she considers him the most wonderful creature in the world, and that she is on her knees half the time thanking heaven for having bestowed him upon her for a husband, you will never find him wandering off after strange goddesses. And inasmuch as a marriage that is a mutual admiration society is the most satisfying thing on earth, isn't it queer that more men and women do not try to secure it themselves?

Then there are the children. Perhaps the purest happiness that ever comes to a man or woman is in having children who grow up not only into being fine men and women, but who, really love them, and are companionable with them. It is the reward that all parents expect to receive for the many sacrifices they have made in rearing their children, but few receive it because they have never taken the trouble to cultivate the friendship of their sons and daughters.

Sometimes the father has been too engrossed with his business to even get acquainted with his children. Often the mother has turned their rearing over to servants while she went to parties or pursued a career. Sometimes father has been so grumpy and stern the children were afraid of him. Often mother was such a nagger that to tell her of any misdeed was never to hear the last of it, hence the children never got in the way of confiding in her.

So when they grew up they had nothing in common with their parents, and not a bond that they were not eager to break. It is pitiful to think how much parents lose by not beginning to cultivate their children's society while they are still in the cradle.

Worst of all, there is the in-law problem that soaks half the world in brine. It need not be a grief but can be a joy if only people thought it worthwhile to cultivate their in-laws and try to win their affection instead of going into the relationship with a chip on their shoulders and a determination to fight it out to the bitter end. Many a woman would find a real mother in her husband's mother, and many a girl would find a real mother in her husband's mother, and save themselves untold heartache and misery if they would only cultivate each other.

It is a pitiful thing to find that it is our stupidity that keeps us from making our domestic relationship the beautiful thing it should be.

Uncle Wiggily's Long Slide

By HOWARD E. GARIS

No sooner had Baby Bunty, the orphan rabbit, slipped out of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow, to go to school one morning, than all of a sudden, there was a thumping, bumping, banging sound on the steps. Then some one cried out:

"Oh, dear me!"

"Gracious goodness!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Fussy Wussy, who had just looked behind her to see that Baby Bunty was clean for the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hollow Tree School. "Something has happened to Baby Bunty!" said the Mistress Lady Housekeeper.

"I think she has slipped on the steps and fallen off," said the Mistress Lady Housekeeper. "But I'll look to make sure."

"He opened the door, looked out and said:

"Yes, I was right. Baby Bunty has fallen down the steps."

"Well, don't stand there laughing at her," said Mrs. Longears. "Pick the poor little dear up and bring her in. Do stop laughing, Wiggily!"

"I can't help it!" giggled Mr. Longears. "Baby Bunty herself is laughing, so I guess she isn't much hurt. Ask her, Bunty!" he asked.

"No, Uncle Wiggily," she answered, laughing some more. "I just had a funny slide on the steps. They're all ice. Look out!" she cried as she saw the rabbit gentleman hop out on them. "Look out!"

WARNING TOO LATE!

The warning came too late, for Uncle Wiggily also slipped on the icy steps and down he went, bumping bump. He came to a stop sitting down beside Baby Bunty and then they both laughed.

"Well, of all things," said Nurse Jane as she looked out of the door. But she didn't go on the steps, which was a good thing.

"The rest of you must be very careful going down there," warned Mrs. Longears as all the other rabbit boys and girls crowded around to get out of the house. "It's very slippery."

"Indeed, it is," said Uncle Wiggily, as he got up and then helped up Baby Bunty. "It rained in the night and then froze. Everything is as slippery as ice."

"What fun we'll have sliding to school!" laughed Bunty. "Nurse Jane and I finally let go of him, finding his ears very clean. So away hopped the rabbit children to school, sliding as much as they could. When they were gone Uncle Wiggily put on his hat.

"Where are you going, Wiggily?" asked his wife.

"Oh, just out," he said sort of indifferent like and hesitating.

"Till the truth," said Mrs. Longears. "You are going out to slide, aren't you?"

"Well, you might call it that," said the bunny uncle.

"Oh, will you ever grow up?" asked his wife, helpless like.

"I hope not," said Uncle Wiggily with a smile and twinkling his nose. So out he hopped. Every place he stepped was so slippery that he nearly fell down half dozen times. But he managed to walk along until he reached to top of a hill. He meant to go down it slowly and carefully.

But once he stepped on the icy hill, down he started to slide. Faster and faster he went, keeping his balance. Down the long hill he slid until he was going like a runaway automobile. He couldn't stop himself. At the bottom of the hill he saw a lot of big rocks.

"Oh, if I slide on them I'll be hurt!" cried Uncle Wiggily. He tried harder than before to stop but he couldn't. And then, all of a sudden, just as he was going to bump on the rocks at the end of his long slide, along came Mr. Traxtail, the fat pig. Uncle Wiggily slid right on top of the soft hay and he stopped as he had landed in bed. He wasn't hurt at all. Then he laughed and the fat pig also laughed and if the top of the haystack got down to the bottom a little while I'll tell you what about Uncle Wiggily's nose cave.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

TUESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1936

Benefic stars rule to-day, according to astrology. Bold men should feel increase of energy and impetus toward practical work.

Under this planetary government mental activity should be extraordinarily improved and thought accelerated. This is a suspicious way for lawyers, statesmen and others who utilize their gifts as counselors.

This is a day auspicious alike for those who work with their hands, those who depend upon their brains. Unity of purpose between employers and employees is indicated for certain industries.

With the new year a national youth movement is being organized in the United States, but there is a sign warning that it may develop into a movement of violence and jealousy are presaged.

Educational projects will be widely discussed and the problem of fitting college graduates to jobs will assume a new significance.

Love affairs among boys and girls may be prevalent enough to create obstacles for those who are directing movements to stars careers under benign federal influence and aid.

Great Britain is to find 1936 a year of amazing developments, according to London astrologers. Economic reconstruction is prognosticated as likely to cause difficulties in certain quarters.

Pluto is the planet most powerful over China. There will be many plots and counterplots. Hardships for the people may be increased. Bandits will be more numerous.

Persons whose birthdate is 11 have the luxury of a year of prosperity in business. Whatever pertains to real estate should be profitable.

Children born on this day probably will be aggressive. Subjects of this sign easily gain authority and wisdom. They are a reticent power.

James Burrill Angel, college president and diplomat, was born on Oct. 1, 1828. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Adolphus, Duke of Saxe-Coburg, 1873; Dr. T. Dewitt Talmage, preacher, 1823, and Albert Bierstadt, the painter, 1830.

PRESS SCORED BY ABERHART

Papers Are Becoming Nuisance to Him, Says Alberta Premier

Canadian Press

Calgary, Jan. 6.—The press is becoming a nuisance, Premier Aberhart of Alberta declared here yesterday in an address at his Prophetic Bible Institute, and added "people must control their own press."

"We don't want a press, but maybe we will have to have one," the Premier said. "If I say to you some day you are going to have a daily paper, are you going to support it?"

The Premier charged that a writer in a Canadian magazine had made incorrect statements concerning the Bible Institute and himself and had escaped legal penalties by "technical terms."

"He also said I had made a lot of money and that the Bible Institute had issued no financial statements," Mr. Aberhart continued. "Over and over again I have asserted and asserted I never received any money from this church. We pay auditors to go over the books."

He said the magazine writer had qualified his assertion by the phrase "rumor said I had money."

HIS HOME REPORTERS
The speaker said that as soon as he had left the train on his arrival in Calgary following his Christmas vacation in Vancouver he was besieged by newspaper reporters.

"I feel glad to believe there will be no newspapers in Heaven and those fellows can get another job," Mr. Aberhart stated.

Referring to reports that depicted his addresses at the Bible Institute on affairs of state, the Premier said: "The time is past when a minister can be criticized for his private economic statements and preaching that 'people of the province should be fed and clothed.'"

Newspapers said there would be marches on Edmonton during the coming session of the Legislature to demand basic dividends immediately. Mr. Aberhart said: "Demands for immediate payment of basic dividends are 'below human intelligence,' the Premier continued. "We promised we would begin paying basic dividends in eighteen months. We have been in power only four months. It is an unrealistic demand."

"I appeal to you to use your best judgment for once," the Premier continued. "You have the opportunity of your life. I speak to citizens. You are going to meet the greatest test you ever met. I have confidence in you and hope you have confidence in me."

He told his supporters that "the more you mix religion and economics the better for yourself."

TACTICS CRITICIZED
He expressed surprise that political opponents who predicted the Social Credit government would be unable to bring about its promised social legislation, still used underhand tactics against the government.

"I am as happy as I can be," the Premier said at the end of his address, adding he did not want to give the idea he was with his heavy duties. "I am going about my work as best I can. Maybe I will do something severe in the next few months. I am not sure or sure. I might have to do something severe."

CAPT. KANEKO TO BE HONORED

Japanese Skipper, Who Has Crossed Pacific 100 Times, to Be Guest of Honor

Capt. Danzemon Kaneko, who was a regular visitor to Victoria's ocean docks when ships of the N.Y.K. fleet called here on their way to and from the Orient, will be honored by Seattle's Japanese colony to-night. He is now at the Puget Sound port aboard the Hikawa Maru, after making 100 round trip voyages across the Pacific.

Capt. Kaneko is one of the most widely traveled skippers in service to the Pacific Northwest. A graduate of the Tokyo Nautical School he has spent 9,408 days at sea, has traveled 1,319,313 miles, visited twenty-two countries and eighty-six ports, crossed the equator thirty times, the meridian of Greenwich sixty-seven times and the 180th meridian 102 times, according to accounts he has kept faithfully since he became a mariner.

ON MANY SHIPS

The crossings of the Pacific were made by Capt. Kaneko on the Inaba Maru, the Aki Maru, the Sado Maru, the Kanagawa Maru, the Tsuruma Maru, the Fushimi Maru, the Takachi Maru, the Siberian Maru, the Heian Maru and the Hikawa Maru. As commander he made thirty-five trips on the Hikawa, twenty-six on the Heian, ten on the Siberia and two on the Takachi.

Capt. Kaneko is married and has one son, who is an accomplished singer and, often appears on radio programmes in Japan. The captain's hobbies are drama, literature and gardening, and while ashore for a few days he likes to tour the hot springs for which Japan is famous. When on the side of the Pacific he is a boxing fan and attends bouts in Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma.

Capt. Kaneko is also a sea hero, having taken part in the rescue of the crew of the Italian cruiser Muglia, lost in Oriental waters. For this brave deed he wears an Iron Cross and gold decoration presented to him by King Victor Emmanuel of Italy.

BRITISH SHIP ASKING HELP

Ss. Pearlmoor Sends Out SOS Message From Coast of British Isles

Lon.—Jan. 6.—An SOS call was reported from the Ss. Pearlmoor, a British ship, in the Irish Sea, yesterday evening and all life-saving stations along the west English and Irish coast were ordered to keep a sharp watch.

The Land's End radio station reported that a ship was drifting helplessly about ten miles off Small's Lighthouse on the Pembrokeshire coast.

The ship left Fremantle, Australia, for Falmouth, October 15, and departed from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, December 10, on the last leg of her voyage.

The Pearlmoor is a steamship of 4,651 tons. Built in 1923 by J. Redhead and Sons Ltd., of South Shields, England, she is registered at London. Lloyd's Agency lists her owners as the Moor Line Ltd.

WAS ENGINEER ON OLD LINERS

John Forde Wilson, whom Victoria waterfront men remember as chief engineer on the old Empress liners of the Canadian Pacific, died last week in Vancouver and was buried in New Westminster on New Year's Day.

The late Mr. Wilson, who was sixty-three years of age, came into Victoria regularly aboard the old Empresses of India, China and Japan.

After leaving Pacific Ocean service he joined the Union Steamship Company of British Columbia, serving coast ports. He retired from active duty eleven years ago. Mrs. Wilson survives him, in Vancouver.

Ss. Pennsylvania Held By Strike

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—Striking seamen held the Panama Pacific liner Pennsylvania at dock here for a second day after its scheduled departure.

Officials of the steamship company said today that negotiations with the Seamen's Union, whose members walked off ship Saturday shortly before the scheduled sailing for New York, had failed "without any result."

Nearly 100 passengers were accommodated at hotels as officials of the company and the union discussed the strikers' demand for west coast pay.

Speakers from the strikers said they were signed on for east coast pay, slightly lower than the west coast scale, without being consulted.

Fifty-one coastwise steam schooners remained tied up at various Pacific ports because of a dispute over seamen's working hours and wages.

New Destroyer In Mishap in Clyde

Glasgow, Jan. 6.—The new destroyer Griffin smashed some armour plate yesterday when it broke loose from a tug which was towing it in the river Clyde.

The Griffin, construction of which being completed at the Victoria-Armstrong yards, was being towed to sea for trials when the accident occurred. It is expected the damage will be repaired by the end of the week.
